TWO CENTS

ISLANDS DEVASTATED.

Awful Destruction by Hurricane In West Indies.

PORTO RICO SUFFERED GREATLY.

Many Lives Lost—Towns Almost Wiped Out—General Davis Appeals For Aid For Hungry and Homeless—Reports From Other Islands.

SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO, Aug. 11.—Four native were drowned in the harbor here during the recent hurricane, 80 houses were demolished and hundreds were unroofed. The damage to property is estimated at $500,000. Commissary stores to the value of $50,000 were destroyed.

A dispatch by cable from Ponce said the town was almost destroyed. Almost all the frame buildings are down, the bridge is swept away and there is no communication between the port and the city proper. The damage to the port is estimated at about $250,000. Two natives are known to have been drowned. The records and property of the customhouse are ruined and all the vessels are ashore.

At Aibonito very little remains standing except the cathedral and the barracks. Four natives perished and three United States soldiers were badly injured. As the town is without food, government relief has been dispatched thither.

El Cayey was leveled to the ground, 200 houses being demolished. Two United States soldiers were injured there and many cavalry horses killed.

At Cataño the entire plant of the Standard Oil company was ruined. The loss on the property is about $200,000.

At Bayamon a majority of the houses were destroyed and the rest were flooded. Two hundred cattle were killed and the railway was seriously damaged.

The village of Caroline was literally razed. At Caguas four persons were killed.

A courier from Humacao, capital of the province of that name, on the eastern coast of the island, reported the loss to property was estimated at about $500,000. The courier brought an official report from Captain Eben Swift of the Fifth United States cavalry, who says: "Humacao was totally destroyed by the hurricane. Forty-six bodies have been recovered and there are many more in the debris. Eight privates of Troop C were injured, two fatally. Sergeant King of the Eleventh infantry was injured. North, a discharged private, is missing. At the port of Humacao 18 bodies have been recovered. Eight hundred people are staying here."

Three persons were killed at Las Piedras and five at Junco.

Couriers from the other districts are anxiously expected at the palaeo. The steamer Slocum, Captain Thomas, enroute from Mayaguez to San Juan, was caught in the storm, but her passengers and crew were saved through the heroism of Mr. Single, the first officer.

The coffee crop is ruined and the loss will reach millions.

Very great injury has been done also to the orange crop.

No definite returns have yet been received from the southern section of the islands, apart from Ponce. It is certain, however, that the food supplies in the stricken districts have been destroyed, and in these quarters the quantity of government stores on hand is small. Relief wagons will be sent out in various directions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The secretary of war received a report from General Davis, commanding in Porto Rico, on the cyclone. He told of some damage to government property at various places, loss of two lives at San Juan by two small schooners sinking, shipping ashore at Ponce, and then said:

"The losses by the inhabitants is very great and extreme suffering must result. The last hurricane as severe as this was in 1876, when owing to the loss of houses, fruit and provisions there was famine. I would suggest public notice in the United States to the effect that contributions of food, clothing and money for the destitute would be received with the greatest gratitude and will be applied strictly to relief of destitute. Have appointed a board to supervise destitution. There are many thousands of families who are entirely homeless and very great distress must follow."

Authorities here believed all naval vessels to be safe.

ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., Aug. 11.—The island of Montserrat, British West Indies, was completely devastated by a hurricane. All the churches, estates and villages were destroyed and nearly 100 persons were killed. In addition many were injured and rendered homeless and terrible distress exists among the sufferers.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The governor of the Leeward islands, Sir Francis Fleming, confirming the dispatch from St. Thomas, D. W. I., announcing the devastation caused by the hurricane at the island of Montserrat, said 74 deaths were already known. He adds that 21 persons were killed at the island of Nevis. At Antigua one death was reported and many persons had been rendered homeless.

The other presidencies of the Leeward Islands had not reported the damage done.

FORT DE FRANCE, Island of Martinique, Aug. 11.—The authorities on the island of Guadeloupe were still without news from the interior. But other advices which had reached La Pointe-a-Pitre said the coffee and cocoa crops had been nearly totally destroyed. At La Pointe-a-Pitre seven persons were injured, and at Moule the damage done was considerable, and several persons were killed and wounded. At Petit Canal and Port Louis several persons were killed and a number injured. The villages of Grappon and Tamentin had been entirely destroyed and the lighthouse of Montroux and Foscollose had been overturned. The town of St. Louis de Marie Galante suffered considerably. News from the British Antilles said that Antigua was seriously hit and that at St. Kitt 200 houses were destroyed.

OTIS CLOSED THE PORTS.

Reconnaissances Made—Rebel Loss In Recent Fighting Estimated at 100 Killed and 300 Wounded.

MANILA, Aug. 11.—Official reports received here from the scene of the recent fighting with the Filipinos said there were reconnaissances, during which the American troops found a few of the enemy. But there were no engagements of importance. A battalion of the Seventeenth infantry, under Major O'Brien, advanced very close to Angeles. The major reports there are about 250 insurgents there. A battalion of the Twelfth infantry made a reconnaissance in the direction of Porac, but the enemy there scattered. The main body of the American army is at Calulom. The line has been immaterially changed since the advance was stopped Wednesday, and when it will be interred with military honors.

Thousands viewed the body today. When the body reached here yesterday, there was a large crowd at the station.

A detail from Company C of the former Seventeenth regiment, a local organization, kept the crowd back from the car while the body was being lowered to the platform, and cleared the path along the platform to the hearse, which was waiting.

On the streets the local organizations had formed into line. They were W. L. Templeton post 120, G. A. R.; the ex-members of Company H, Tenth regiment; Camp 316, Sons of Veterans, and Demolay commandery, Knights Templar, of which Colonel Hawkins was a member.

The procession moved in the following order: Company C, Seventeenth regiment, Captain Hugh A. Rogers; General John A. Wiley, Chaplain Joseph L. Hunter, Colonels Glenn and Smith, Captain W. C. Wallace of Battery B, Major John Penney, Lieutenants McCormick, Duncan and Hawkins of the Tenth, Pittsburgh Knights Templar, the committee appointed by the Pittsburgh Tenth committee, the local organizations in the order first named and 200 former members of Company H, Tenth regiment.

The hearse followed the Knights Templar. The pallbearers were Knights Joseph G. Morin, Frank Ridgway, W. R. Heckert, Thomas W. Irwin, A. G. Williams, W. W. Price, Charles M. Bartberger and George H. Carsten.

When at last the house was reached the Company C detail again acted as police. Brigadier General Wiley and the other officers were the first to enter the grounds. They stood at attention at one side of the path. The other organizations took up their place by the path.

Then the pallbearers carried the body into the house, the spectators baring their heads as the casket passed, and then falling in and marching into the house. The casket was deposited in the drawingroom, and Grand Prelate Rev. T. N. Boyle of the Pittsburgh Knights delivered a short but impressive prayer.

He spoke of the life work of the dead, and asked the Almighty to give solace to the bereaved widow of one who died for his country. The prayer concluded with the Lord's prayer intoned by all present. It was an impressive ceremony.

Mrs. Hawkins and her daughter Jessie were in the house, but not present at the ceremony.

When the short service was over the house was at once cleared on the suggestion of Colonel Streator. Mrs. Hawkins, he said, would want to be alone with her loved one.

Mrs. Hawkins broke down with grief, but did not linger long at the casket. The features of the brave colonel were easily distinguished, but it was not the robust-looking form as he appeared when he went out with his troops nearly 16 months ago. Chaplain Hunter was with the widow and daughter during the terrible and pathetic ordeal, and comforted them in their sorrow. He took supper with the family and told them of the death of their loved one.

About 8 o'clock last evening private services were held in the house. The attendants included, besides the mother and daughter, Mrs. John Aiken and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Treat, Colonel J. B. R. Streator, Captain Rogers, Lieutenant Best and some others. The brothers of the deceased were also present.

Chaplain Hunter conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Henry W. Temple, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church and chaplain of the Seventeenth regiment. A prayer was offered up by the Tenth chaplain, in which he asked the Divine favor on the stricken family and friends, to give them strength and comfort in their bereavement. It was a fervent and beautiful petition. He then read a Scripture lesson, and the ceremonies were concluded with the benediction by Rev. Temple.

MILES CONSULTED WITH ROOT.

Believe the Former Brought Up Alger's Recent Order.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Major General Miles had a conference of more than half an hour with the secretary of war. Secretary Root said the conference was devoted to military matters. When it was suggested that there were rumors that he was consulting General Miles with reference to a change of commanders in the Philippines he said he had nothing to say on that subject. It is known, however, that General Miles brought up the recent order of Secretary Alger upon the inspector general's department. That part which places the bureau under the direction of the secretary of war and omits the commanding general of the army is not satisfactory, it is said, to General Miles.

Strikers Threaten to Retaliate.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 11.—The street car strikers and their sympathizers propose to boycott every man who attended the business men's meeting held at the chamber of commerce for the purpose of adopting measures to stamp out the boycott.

Kirves Must Die.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 11.—The state board of pardons refused to interfere in behalf of Bruno Kirves, the Dayton murderer, sentenced to be electrocuted Aug. 17. His crime was the murder of his 15-year-old daughter.

Fearful Punishment Given a Girl in an Industrial School.

davits charging Mrs. Eyler, principal, with cruelty in connection with the punishment of girls. Miss Day gave to reporters details of her affidavit.

Miss Day said she was compelled to assist in putting a straight jacket on Sane Wiseman. The latter screamed and threatened to report the matter to the board of trustees. Mrs. Eyler struck the girl about 100 times with a strap and ordered one of the men to choke off her talk. The girl was then put into the dungeon for six days, from which place she was taken to an insane asylum. Miss Day stated further that at the end of the first day the girl expressed repentance, but Mrs. Eyler would not consent to her release.

VICTIMS OF GOLD TRAIL.

Crowd Arrived at Wrangell, One From Ohio, in Bad Shape, Bringing Terrible Tales.

WRANGEL, Alaska, Aug. 6, via Seattle, Aug. 11.—The Stickeen river steamer Strathcona arrived here with 30 survivors of the Edmonton trail. They were all western men except nine, two being C. Jefferson of Asbury Park, N. J., and M. Velez, Ohio.

All the men came in with the pack train sent out from Telegraph creek and Laketon by the various trading companies last spring.

The unfortunates told heartrending stories of hardships endured and comrades lost and abandoned, and strongly denounced the trading and transportation companies as well as the Canadian officials and newspapers that so profusely advertised this route as a feasible one to the Klondike gold fields. To outward appearances, these men certainly gave evidence of the awful suffering undergone since leaving Edmonton about 18 months ago. Most of them were sickly-looking, with unkempt beards and greasy clothes—pictures of physical and financial wrecks.

Several had grown gray and bore marks of scurvy. A few had just enough money to reach Seattle or Victoria, but the most were without funds. The citizens of Wrangell have applied to the United States government at Washington, but up to this date no aid has been received. There are about 25 destitute miners here.

It is estimated that there are 30 or 40 surfers at Telegraph creek awaiting the next trip of the boat. The sick that had to be carried on stretchers, had not yet reached Glenora when the steamer sailed.

Several starvation cases and persons frozen to death are reported.

All along the route from Fort Simpson, on the McKenzie river, to Fort Laird, men with frozen limbs were assisted, while some too weak to help themselves were necessarily left behind by those more fortunate and able to struggle along. Scurvy raged in all the camps more or less, but there are few deaths from this disease reported.

A number of Canadians, who attempted to cross Cutland trail from Simpson to the Francis last fall, have never been heard from, and it is likely that they perished from cold. Provisions were scarce and high at all the military posts last winter.

Flour sold at $35 per sack, bacon at 75 cents per pound and beans 25 cents per quart. This made up the daily menu for several weeks.

TIERNEY WAS RE-ELECTED.

So Were the Other Officers of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union—Speech Made by Archbishop Ireland.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—The second day of the twenty-ninth convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Society of America opened with a memorial mass at the Cathedral of the Holy Name in honor of the members of the order who died during the year. Routine business of the convention was taken up when the session was called to order. Philadelphia was chosen as the next place of meeting.

The feature of the session was an address by Archbishop Ireland, in which the prelate eulogized M. S. Besonies of Indianapolis, who has been prominent in Catholic temperance work for a generation, and who was present. A dramatic scene is anticipated by the anti-Dreyfusists, who rely upon him to throw a bombshell and confound the accused once for all. His words "I have complete proofs of the guilt of Dreyfus," are remembered and both sides are waiting for him to prove his statement.

The Dreyfusists believe that his testimony will be torn to pieces by M. Casimir-Perier have been cited to give their testimony then.

Captain Dreyfus will have the right to question him and it is expected that the latter's cross-examination of Mercier will prove the climax of the whole proceeding.

Former President Casimir-Perier will follow, if possible, the same day, but it is doubtful whether his examination will be concluded before the court adjourns until Monday.

A STRAIN ON DREYFUS.

Showing Physical Distress From Effects of Trial.

MERCIER IN A TIGHT PLACE.

TOMORROW He Is to Be a Witness—Must Give His Alleged Proof That Dreyfus Is Guilty—The Accused May Cross-Examine Him.

RENNES, Aug. 11.—Maitre Demange, the principal counsel of Captain Dreyfus, in an interview with a representative after the session of the court-martial, expressed himself as very well contented with the way in which matters are proceeding, and, judging from his manner, one may say that the defenders of the accused have not yet met anything very surprising or alarming in the secret dossier.

Naturally M. Demange declined to give any particulars respecting the contents of the dossier, but he declared that he and his colleague, M. Labori, were satisfied of the conscientious desire of the members of the court to thresh the whole matter out and to have full light turned upon the accusations against their client.

This will take some time, and the end of the month will be reached before judgment can be given. Meanwhile the strain was telling on Dreyfus, who was showing physical distress.

The members of the Dreyfus court-martial took the testimony of M. Chamoin and Paleologue. The court today probably will conclude the examination of the secret dossier.

Colonel Jouast, president of the court-martial, on leaving the court said a public session would take place tomorrow.

Captain Dreyfus was allowed to walk to and from the Lycee without his usual escort of four or six gendarmes. Only a captain of gendarmes was with him and this officer walked a few steps behind the prisoner.

Tomorrow's public session will be a veritable field day, probably the most important and exciting day of the whole trial, as General Mercier and M. Casimir-Perier have been cited to give their testimony then.

A dramatic scene is anticipated by the anti-Dreyfusists, who rely upon him to throw a bombshell and confound the accused once for all. His words "I have complete proofs of the guilt of Dreyfus," are remembered and both sides are waiting for him to prove his statement.

The Dreyfusists believe that his testimony will be torn to pieces by M. Casimir-Perier and that he will leave the court utterly discredited.

Captain Dreyfus will have the right to question him and it is expected that the latter's cross-examination of Mercier will prove the climax of the whole proceeding.

Former President Casimir-Perier will follow, if possible, the same day, but it is doubtful whether his examination will be concluded before the court adjourns until Monday.

The line has been immaterially changed since the advance was stopped Wednesday, and now includes the towns of Guagua and Santa Anita.

Major General Otis issued an order closing the ports in the hands of the insurgents to inter-island traffic. Aguinaldo issued a decree July 24, dated from Tarlac, closing the insurgent ports to vessels flying the American flag and inviting vessels under other flags to visit them. Vessels under foreign flags cannot traffic with these ports without running the blockade.

The gunboats Concord, Yorktown, Callao and Campanga bombarded San Fernando Tuesday. The Filipinos replied with cannon and musketry for an hour and then fled to the hills, the gunboats firing on them with their machine guns until the rebels disappeared. The bombardment was continued for some time afterwards and many houses were riddled and destroyed, but the town was not set on fire.

The gunboats did not land men. The rebel losses were not known.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The following cable was received from General Otis:

MANILA, Aug. 10.—Adjutant general, Washington: Captured letters, high insurgent authority exhorting inhabitants to hold out a little longer; that European recognition will be granted by Aug. 31 and that present United States administration will be overthrown.

This cable was also received:

MANILA, Aug. 10.

Adjutant General, Washington:

MacArthur's movement yesterday very successful; serves to clear country rear and left and right of insurgents; has advanced north to Calut, six miles from San Fernando, whence he is now reconnoitering; his casualties 5 killed, 29 wounded. Officers wounded: Major Braden, Captain Abernethy, Thirty-sixth volunteers, leg and arm, moderate; Lieutenant Williams, Fifty-first Iowa, thigh, moderate. These troops operated to left and rear toward Santa Rita. MacArthur's advance under Wheaton and Liscum consists of Ninth, Twelfth, Seventeenth, part of Twenty-second regiments and portion of Fifty-first Iowa. Movement very difficult on account of mud and surface water.

MacArthur reports insurgents' loss 100 killed, some 300 wounded; they were rapidly driven northward, and last evening apparently abandoned Porac line when they blew up powder works.

Showing Physical Distress From Effects of Trial.

MERCIER IN A TIGHT PLACE.

Tomorrow He Is to Be a Witness—Must Give His Alleged Proof That Dreyfus Is Guilty—The Accused May Cross-Examine Him.

RENNES, Aug. 11.—Maitre Demange, the principal counsel of Captain Dreyfus, in an interview with a representative after the session of the court-martial, expressed himself as very well contented with the way in which matters are proceeding, and, judging from his manner, one may say that the defenders of the accused have not yet met anything very surprising or alarming in the secret dossier.

Naturally M. Demange declined to give any particulars respecting the contents of the dossier, but he declared that he and his colleague, M. Labori, were satisfied of the conscientious desire of the members of the court to thresh the whole matter out and to have full light turned upon the accusations against their client.

This will take some time, and the end of the month will be reached before judgment can be given. Meanwhile the strain was telling on Dreyfus, who was showing physical distress.

The members of the Dreyfus court-martial took the testimony of MM. Chamoin and Paleologue. The court today probably will conclude the examination of the secret dossier.

Colonel Jouraut, president of the court-martial, on leaving the court said a public session would take place tomorrow.

Captain Dreyfus was allowed to walk to and from the Lycee without his usual escort of four or six gendarmes. Only a captain of gendarmes was with him and this officer walked a few steps behind the prisoner.

Tomorrow's public session will be a veritable field day, probably the most important and exciting day of the whole trial, as General Mercier and M. Casimir-Perier have been cited to give their testimony.

A dramatic scene is anticipated by the anti-Dreyfusites, who rely upon him to throw a bombshell and confound the accused once for all. His words "I have complete proofs of the guilt of Dreyfus," are remembered and both sides are waiting for him to prove his statement.

The Dreyfusites believe that his testimony will be torn to pieces by MM. Labori and Demange, and that he will leave the court utterly discredited.

Captain Dreyfus will have the right to question him and it is expected that the latter's cross-examination of Mercier will prove the climax of the whole proceedings.

Former President Casimir-Perier will follow, if possible, the same day, but it is doubtful whether his examination will be concluded before the court adjourns until Monday.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

15TH YEAR. NO. 54.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1899.

ISLANDS DEVASTATED.

Awful Destruction by Hurricane In West Indies.

PORTO RICO SUFFERED GREATLY.

SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO, Aug. 11.—Four native were drowned in the harbor here during the recent hurricane, 80 houses were demolished and hundreds were unroofed. The damage to property is estimated at $500,000. Commissary stores to the value of $50,000 were destroyed.

A dispatch by cable from Ponce said the town was almost destroyed. Almost all the frame buildings are down, the bridge is swept away and there is no communication between the port and the city proper. The damage to the port is estimated at about $250,000. Two natives are known to have been drowned. The records and property of the customhouse are ruined and all the vessels are ashore.

At Aibonito very little remains standing except the cathedral and the barracks. Four natives perished and three United States soldiers were badly injured. As the town is without food, government relief has been dispatched thither.

El Cayey was leveled to the ground, 200 houses being demolished. Two United States soldiers were injured there and many cavalry horses killed.

At Catano the entire plant of the Standard Oil company was ruined. The loss on the property is about $300,000.

At Bayamon a majority of the houses were destroyed and the rest were flooded. Two hundred cattle were killed and the railway was seriously damaged.

The village of Caroline was literally razed. At Caguas four persons were killed.

A courier from Humacao, capital of the province of that name, on the eastern coast of the island, reported the loss to property was estimated at about $500,000. The courier brought an official report from Captain Eben Swift of the Fifth United States cavalry, who says: "Humacao was totally destroyed by the hurricane. Forty-six bodies have been recovered and there are many more in the debris. Eight privates of Troop C were injured, two fatally. Sergeant King of the Eleventh infantry was injured. North, a discharged private, is missing. At the port of Humacao 18 bodies have been recovered. Eight hundred people are starving here."

Three persons were killed at Las Piedras and five at Junco.

Couriers from the other districts are anxiously expected at the palace. The steamer Slocum, Captain Thomas, enroute from Mayaguez to San Juan, was caught in the storm, but her passengers and crew were saved through the heroism of Mr. Single, the first officer.

The coffee crop is ruined and the loss will reach millions.

Very great injury has been done also to the orange crop.

No definite returns have yet been received from the southern section of the islands, apart from Ponce. It is certain, however, that the food supplies in the stricken districts have been destroyed, and in these quarters the quantity of government stores on hand is small. Relief wagons will be sent out in various directions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The secretary of war received a report from General Davis, commanding in Porto Rico, on the cyclone. He told of some damage to government property at various places, loss of two lives at San Juan by two small schooners sinking, shipping ashore at Ponce, and then said:

"The losses by the inhabitants is very great and extreme suffering must result. The last hurricane as severe as this was in 1876, when owing to the loss of houses, fruit and provisions there was famine. I would suggest public notice in the United States to the effect that contributions of food, clothing and money for the destitute would be received with the greatest gratitude and will be applied strictly to relief of destitute. Have appointed a board to supervise destitution. There are many thousands of families who are entirely homeless and very great distress must follow."

Authorities here believed all naval vessels to be safe.

ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., Aug. 11.—The island of Montserrat, British West Indies, was completely devastated by a hurricane. All the churches, estates and villages were destroyed and nearly 100 persons were killed. In addition many were injured and rendered homeless and terrible distress exists among the sufferers.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The governor of the Leeward islands, Sir Francis Fleming, confirming the dispatch from St. Thomas, D. W. I., announcing the devastation caused by the hurricane at the island of Montserrat, said 74 deaths were already known. He adds that 21 persons were killed at the island of Nevis. At Antigua one death was reported and many persons had been rendered homeless.

The other presidencies of the Leeward islands had not reported the damage done.

PORT DE FRANCE, Island of Martinique, Aug. 11.—The authorities of the island of Guadeloupe were still without news from the interior. But other advices which had reached La Pointe-a-Pitre said the coffee and cocoa crops had been nearly totally destroyed. At La Pointe-a-Pitre seven persons were injured, and at Moule the damage done was considerable, and several persons were killed and wounded. At Petit Canal and Port Louis several persons were killed and a number injured. The villages of Grappon and Tamentin had been entirely destroyed and the light-house of Monroux and Foscalloose had been overturned. The town of St. Louis de Marie Galante suffered considerably. News from the British Antilles said that Antigua was seriously hit and that at St. Kitt 200 houses were destroyed.

OTIS CLOSED THE PORTS.

Reconnaissances Made—Rebel Loss In Recent Fighting Estimated at 100 Killed and 300 Wounded.

MANILA, Aug. 11.—Official reports received here from the scene of the recent fighting with the Filipinos said there were reconnaissances, during which the American troops found a few of the enemy. But there were no engagements of importance. A battalion of the Seventeenth infantry, under Major O'Brien, advanced very close to Angeles. The major reports there are about 250 insurgents there. A battalion of the Twelfth infantry made a reconnaissance in the direction of Porac, but the enemy there scattered. The main body of the American army is at Calum. The line has been immaterially changed since the advance was stopped Wednesday, and now includes the towns of Guagua and Santa Arita.

Major General Otis issued an order closing the ports in the hands of the insurgents to inter-island traffic. Aguinaldo issued a decree July 24, dated from Tarlac, closing the insurgent ports to vessels flying the American flag and inviting vessels under other flags to visit them. Vessels under foreign flags cannot traffic with these ports without running the blockade.

The gunboats Concord, Yorktown, Callao and Campagna bombarded San Fernando Tuesday. The Filipinos replied with cannon and musketry for an hour and then fled to the hills, the gunboats firing on them with their machine guns until the rebels disappeared. The bombardment was continued for some time afterwards and many houses were riddled and destroyed, but the town was not set on fire.

The gunboats did not land men. The rebel losses were not known.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The following cable was received from General Otis:

MANILA, Aug. 10.—Adjutant general, Washington: Captured letters, high insurgent authority exhorting inhabitants to hold out a little longer; that European recognition will be granted by Aug. 31 and that present United States administration will be overthrown.

This cable was also received:

MANILA, Aug. 10.

Adjutant General, Washington:

MacArthur's movement yesterday very successful; serves to clear country rear and left and right of insurgents; has advanced north to Calulut, six miles from San Fernando, whence he is now reconnoitering; his casualties 5 killed, 29 wounded. Officers wounded: Major Braden, Captain Abernethy, Thirty-sixth volunteers, leg and arm, moderate; Lieutenant Williams, Fifty-first Iowa, thigh, moderate. These troops operated to left and rear toward Santa Rita. MacArthur's advance under Wheaton and Liscum consists of Ninth, Twelfth, Seventeenth, part of Twenty-second regiments and portion of Fifty-first Iowa. Movement very difficult on account of mud and surface water.

MacArthur reports insurgents' loss 100 killed, some 300 wounded; they were rapidly driven northward, and last evening apparently abandoned Porac line when he blew up powder works.

MILES CONSULTED WITH ROOT.

Believe the Former Brought Up Alger's Recent Order.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Major General Miles had a conference of more than half an hour with the secretary of war. Secretary Root said the conference was devoted to military matters.

When it was suggested that there were rumors that he was consulting General Miles with reference to a change of commanders in the Philippines he said he had nothing to say on that subject.

It is known, however, that General Miles brought up the recent order of Secretary Alger upon the inspector general's department. That part which places the bureau under the direction of the secretary of war and omits the commanding general of the army is not commanding, it is said, to General Miles.

Colonel Hawkins' Body Lay In State Today.

WILL BE TAKEN TO A VAULT.

It Will Be Kept There Under Guard Until Time For the Funeral—Brief Services at the House, Conducted by Chaplain Hunter.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 11.—A detail of six soldiers of the Seventeenth, under Sergeant J. L. Schue, remained with the body of Colonel Hawkins overnight, relieving each other according to military regulations. Today the body was conveyed to the Washington-Jefferson college, where it laid in state from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. In the evening it will be placed in the receiving vault, there to remain until the arrival of the Tenth, when it will be interred with military honors.

Thousands viewed the body today. When the body reached here yesterday, there was a large crowd at the station.

A detail from Company C of the former Seventeenth regiment, a local organization, kept the crowd back from the car while the body was being lowered to the platform, and cleared the path along the platform to the hearse, which was waiting.

On the streets the local organizations had formed into line. They were W. L. Templeton post 120, G. A. R.; the ex-members of Company H, Tenth regiment; Camp 316, Sons of Veterans, and Demolay commandery, Knights Templar, of which Colonel Hawkins was a member.

The procession moved in the following order: Company C, Seventeenth regiment, Captain Hugh A. Rogers; General John A. Wiley, Chaplain Joseph L. Hunter, Colonels Glenn and Smith, Captain W. C. Wallace of Battery B, Major John Penney, Lieutenants McCormick, Duncan and Hawkins of the Tenth, Pittsburg Knights Templar, the committee appointed by the Pittsburg Tenth committee, the local organizations in the order first named and 200 former members of Company H, Tenth regiment.

The hearse followed the Knights Templar. The pallbearers were Knights Joseph G. Morin, Frank Ridgway, W. R. Heckert, Thomas W. Irwin, A. G. Williams, W. W. Price, Charles M. Bartberger and George H. Carsten.

When at last the house was reached the Company C detail again acted as police. Brigadier General Wiley and the other officers were the first to enter the grounds. They stood at attention at one side of the path. The other organizations took up their place by the path.

Then the pallbearers carried the body into the house, the spectators baring their heads as the casket passed, and then falling in and marching into the house. The casket was deposited in the drawingroom, and Grand Prelate Rev. T. N. Boyle of the Pittsburg Knights delivered a short but impressive prayer.

He spoke of the life work of the dead, and asked the Almighty to give solace to the bereaved widow of one who died for his country. The prayer concluded with the Lord's prayer intoned by all present. It was an impressive ceremony.

Mrs. Hawkins and her daughter Jenny were in the house, but not present at the ceremony.

When the short service was over the house was at once cleared on the suggestion of Colonel Streator. Mrs. Hawkins, he said, would want to be alone with her loved one.

Mrs. Hawkins broke down with grief, but did not linger long at the casket. The features of the brave colonel were easily distinguished, but it was not the robust-looking form as he appeared when he went out with his troops nearly 16 months ago. Chaplain Hunter was with the widow and daughter during the terrible and pathetic ordeal, and comforted them in their sorrow. He took supper with the family and told them of the death of their loved one.

About 8 o'clock last evening private services were held in the house. The attendants included, besides the mother and daughter, Mrs. John Aiken and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Treat, Colonel J. B. R. Streator, Captain Rogers, Lieutenant Best and some others. The brothers of the deceased were also present.

Chaplain Hunter conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Henry W. Temple, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church and chaplain of the Seventeenth regiment. A prayer was offered up by the Tenth chaplain, in which he asked the Divine favor on the stricken family and friends, to give them strength and comfort in their bereavement. It was a fervent and beautiful petition. He then read a Scripture lesson, and the ceremonies were concluded with the benediction by Rev. Temple.

DRIVEN INSANE BY ABUSE.

Fearful Punishment Given a Girl In an Industrial School.

TRENTON, Aug. 11.—Miss Francis Day and Mrs. Miller, who were formerly employed at the Girls' Industrial school, came to Trenton and made affidavits charging Mrs. Eyler, principal, with cruelty in connection with the punishment of girls. Miss Day gave to reporters details of her affidavit.

Miss Day said she was compelled to assist in putting a straight jacket on Sadie Wiseman. The latter screamed and threatened to report the matter to the board of trustees. Mrs. Eyler struck the girl about 100 times with a strap and ordered one of the men to choke off her talk. The girl was then put into the dungeon for six days, from which place she was taken to an insane asylum. Miss Day stated further that at the end of the first day the girl expressed repentance, but Mrs. Eyler would not consent to her release.

VICTIMS OF GOLD TRAIL.

Crowd Arrived at Wrangell, One From Ohio, In Bad Shape, Bringing Terrible Tales.

WRANGEL, Alaska, Aug. 6, via Seattle, Aug. 11.—The Stickeen river steamer Strathcona arrived here with 30 survivors of the Edmonton trail. They were all western men except nine, two being C. Jefferson of Asbury Park, N. J., and M. Voley, Ohio.

All the men came in with the pack train sent out from Telegraph creek and Laketon by the various trading companies last spring.

The unfortunate told heartrending stories of hardships endured and comrades lost and abandoned, and strongly denounced the trading and transportation companies as well as the Canadian officials and newspapers that so profusely advertised this route as a feasible one to the Klondike gold fields. To outward appearances, these men certainly gave evidence of the awful suffering undergone since leaving Edmonton about 18 months ago. Most of them were sickly-looking, with unkempt beards and greasy clothes—pictures of physical and financial wrecks. Several had grown gray and bore marks of scurvy.

A few had just enough money to reach Seattle or Victoria, but the most were without funds. The citizens of Wrangell have applied to the United States government at Washington, but up to this date no aid has been received. There are about 25 destitute miners here.

It is estimated that there are 30 or 40 scurvy cases and persons frozen to death are reported.

All along the route from Fort Simpson, on the McKenzie river, to Fort Laird, men with frozen limbs were assisted, while some too weak to help themselves were necessarily left behind by those more fortunate and able to struggle along. Scurvy raged in all the camps more or less, but there are few deaths from this disease reported.

A number of Canadians, who attempted to cross Cutland trail from Simpson to the Francis last fall, have never been heard from, and it is likely that they perished from cold. Provisions were scarce and high at all the military posts last winter.

Flour sold at $35 per sack, bacon at 75 cents per pound and beans 25 cents per quart. This made up the daily menu for several weeks.

TIERNEY WAS RE-ELECTED.

So Were the Other Officers of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union—Speech Made by Archbishop Ireland.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—The second day of the twenty-ninth convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Society of America opened with a memorial mass at the Cathedral of the Holy Name in honor of the members of the order who had died during the year. Routine business of the convention was taken up when the session was called to order. Philadelphia was chosen as the next place of meeting.

The feature of the session was an address by Archbishop Ireland, in which the prelate eulogized Monsignor Besonies of Indianapolis, who has been prominent in Catholic temperance work for a generation, and who was present.

The suggestion of Archbishop Ireland, that a history of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union be prepared, was adopted and a committee of five was appointed to prepare the history and report at the convention next year. Archbishop Ireland was elected a member of the committee. A temperance song and hymn book, for use in juvenile branches of the union, was ordered prepared. At a later session the report of the committee on resolutions was received.

All the national officers of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America were re-elected unanimously. They are as follows: President, Bishop Tierney, Hartford; first vice president, J. L. Washington Kogue, Philadelphia; second vice president, Walter J. Gibbons, Chicago; third vice president, Mrs. Leonora M. Lake, St. Louis; secretary, Rev. A. P. Doyle, New York; treasurer, Rev. D. S. RAILWAY COMPANY TO PAY HALF

A Kilnman at the Laughlin Pottery Was Married in Steubenville—East End Streets Desereted Yesterday—Afternoon—Stores Were Also Closed—News of the Suburb.

The temporary trestle erected by the street railway company, over Leak's run, near Ralston's crossing, may be replaced by a more modern structure within the next year. This statement was made by an employee of the railway yesterday.

The trestle is built of wood and its construction lasted but a few days. When this work was being done the management was asked if the structure would be temporary or permanent, to which no reply was received. It is now learned the company will, within a short time, ask council to erect a stone or iron bridge over the ravine, as the right of way to the company was granted over the avenue. The railway company will bear half the expense of the improvement if the city will go to the balance.

When the rolling mill is completed the company will devote their time arranging details for the erection of either a wire or steel billet mill. While none of the members of the company will talk about the proposed mill, enough information was gained on the South Side yesterday to verify the rumor. The site of the new mill has not yet been selected, but the Pusey property, and a piece of land below the point, are being given careful consideration. Some minor plans for the mill have been drafted, but as yet everything is in a crude state.

BOUGHT A HOUSE.

The Helling Fruit Storage House Has Changed Hands.

E. W. Hewitt and W. C. Mahan have purchased the Helling fruit house at Mahan's. This is the largest fruit house in the county. It has a capacity for 30,000 barrels, 26,000 barrels being stored in it during 1896. It cost $28,000, the laying of stone alone costing $7,000. The owners asked $10,000 for the building, but they shaded this price to the purchasers. The new owners will have eight thousand barrels of apples of their own to store this fall, and a great many for other growers and dealers.

WANT CITY TO HELP

A Stronger Trestle Over Leak's Run Is Needed.

RAILWAY COMPANY TO PAY HALF

A Kilnman at the Laughlin Pottery Was Married in Steubenville—East End Streets Deserted Yesterday Afternoon—Stores Were Also Closed—News of the Suburb.

The temporary trestle erected by the street railway company, over Leak's run, near Ralston's crossing, may be replaced by a more modern structure within the next year. This statement was made by an employee of the railway yesterday.

The trestle is built of wood and its construction lasted but a few days. When this work was being done the management was asked if the structure would be temporary or permanent, to which no reply was received. It is now learned the company will, within a short time, ask council to erect a stone or iron bridge over the ravine, as the right of way to the company was granted over the avenue. The railway company will bear half the expense of the improvement if the city will go the balance.

A WEDDING.

A Workman at the Laughlin Pottery Wedded Last Night.

Last evening Miss Maggie Pool was married to William Patterson, of First avenue, at the residence of the bride's parents in Steubenville. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will make their home in East End. Mr. Patterson is a kilnman at the Laughlin pottery, and is very popular among his fellow workmen, who extend their best wishes.

A NEW KILN.

A Long Looked For Improvement at the Brick Yard.

Yesterday the work of hauling fire brick to the brick yard for the construction of the new kiln was commenced, and Monday the erection will be started. The kiln will be of the latest design and will have a capacity of 100,000. The brick to be used in the walls of the kiln are made at the company's plant at Salineville.

A DESERTED SUBURB.

Very Few Persons on East End Streets Yesterday Afternoon.

Between 1 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon the streets of East End were practically deserted. Every person who had the chance went to Columbian park, and even the store keepers took advantage of the races and closed their stores for the five hours.

Building News.

Charles Swan has commenced the erection of a five room house on Pennsylvania avenue, near Columbian park.

The several new residences being erected in the Klondike district by Harvey McHenry for parties residing in the south, were completed this afternoon.

PLANS FOR BILLET MILL

What the Rolling Mill Company Will Build.

HELLING FRUIT HOUSE SOLD

Teachers' Institute Closes Tonight—A Library Contest Held Yesterday—Farmers Want a New Road Constructed Along the River Bank—News of Interest.

When the rolling mill is completed the company will devote their time arranging details for the erection of either a wire or steel billet mill. While none of the members of the company will talk about the proposed mill, enough information was gained on the South Side yesterday to verify the rumor. The site of the new mill has not yet been selected, but the Pusey property, and a piece of land below the point, are being given careful consideration. Some minor plans for the mill have been drafted, but as yet everything is in a crude state.

BOUGHT A HOUSE.

The Helling Fruit Storage House Has Changed Hands.

E. W. Hewitt and W. C. Mahan have purchased the Helling fruit house at Mahan's. This is the largest fruit house in the county. It has a capacity for 30,000 barrels, 26,000 barrels being stored in it during 1896. It cost $28,000, the laying of stone alone costing $7,000. The owners asked $10,000 for the building, but they shaded this price to the purchasers. The new owners will have eight thousand barrels of apples of their own to store this fall, and a great many for other growers and dealers.

A GOOD THING.

Farmers Do Not Like the Present County Road.

It is said the residents of the country back of Chester will petition the commissioners of Hancock county to abandon the present roadway between the tracks of the Southside street railway and the extension of the Panhandle. The road is both dangerous and in bad condition.

Literary Contest.

The literary contest at the Tri-State Normal school, at Fairview, last evening, was one of the closing features of the county teachers' institute, and was replete with essays, recitations and music. The attendance at the institute during the week has been large, and its sessions have been very interesting. The institute will close this evening.

THE sewer pipe trust has long ceased to be a news item.

THE expectation that the Whan-Grim cases will occupy two or three days shows that the lawyers are looking forward to a wordy riot.

REGARDING the fact that the city's funds are overdrawn nearly $5,000, has it occurred to anyone to inquire whether a city fund can be legally overdrawn.

THE wordy solicitude of city fathers for the welfare of the struggling taxpayer doesn't seem consistent with the actual disregard of the same individuals' interests.

WITH East Liverpool issuing sewer bonds without a petition from the people and Wellsville issuing sewer bonds on which the interest could not be collected until the bonds were redeemed, financiers abroad must have a peculiar opinion of the financial and legislative ability of the city councils in this neck of the woods.

GOOD, IF ACTED UPON.

Two suggestions were made at council Tuesday night regarding street contracts which, if acted upon, will result to the advantage of the city. There was nothing unusually brilliant about the ideas, which common sense should have suggested long ago. They were that a contractor should be compelled to satisfactorily finish one contract before he was given another, and that on streets where sewers were to be laid the sewers should be laid before the streets were paved, and not afterwards, as seems to have been the custom.

THE DOW LAW.

The Ohio liquor license law is ages behind the times. As a police regulation to secure the character of the saloonkeepers it is worthless; as a source of revenue it is ridiculous. The 58 saloons in this city turned in less than

SMITH HAS RETURNED

He Arrived in the City Early This Morning.

HIS BONDSEN ARE RELEASED

He Was Found Near Clarkson and Claimed He Was on His Way to This City to Give Himself Up—Didn't Have Much to Say About Himself.

William Smith, charged with criminal assault upon Jesse Shamp, who skipped his bond of $200 in the court of Squire McLane a few weeks ago, returned to the city this morning.

Sometime ago his bondsmen received word that he was in Youngstown and John W. Wyman was sent there to look for him. Last evening James Smith and M. H. Edgell started to drive to Youngstown about 7 o'clock in the evening. When they arrived at Clarkson a heavy storm came up and they decided to stay there until this morning.

This morning about 4 o'clock they started for Youngstown and when they were about a mile and a half from Clarkson they met Smith and a friend coming along the road. Smith said he intended to go to his sister's and get some sleep and then come to this city. He got in the buggy and the party drove back to Clarkson, where they had breakfast. They then came to this city, and Smith stopped at his home and changed his clothes and was then taken to jail. About 10 o'clock he was taken to the office of Squire McLane, where his bondsmen, E. W. Hill, James Smith, John Mear Smith and A. Bernstein were released and he was given in custody of Constable Powell.

Where He Has Been.

Smith would not be interviewed, but stated to other parties that when he left this city he rode horseback to the home of his sister, near Fredericktown, and his nephew drove him to Youngstown, and from there he went to Port Jarvis, N. Y. He says he was persuaded to leave this city by parties who he believed were his friends and that he was on his way home.

The attorneys in the case at a late hour had not settled upon what action they would take.

THE sewer pipe trust has long ceased to be a news item.

THE expectation that the Whan-Grim cases will occupy two or three days shows that the lawyers are looking forward to a wordy riot.

REGARDING the fact that the city's funds are overdrawn nearly $5,000, has it occurred to anyone to inquire whether a city fund can be legally overdrawn.

THE wordy solicitude of city fathers for the welfare of the struggling taxpayer doesn't seem consistent with the actual disregard of the same individuals' interests.

WITH East Liverpool issuing sewer bonds without a petition from the people and Wellsville issuing sewer bonds on which the interest could not be collected until the bonds were redeemed, financiers abroad must have a peculiar opinion of the financial and legislative ability of the city councils in this neck of the woods.

GOOD, IF ACTED UPON.

Two suggestions were made at council Tuesday night regarding street contracts which, if acted upon, will result to the advantage of the city. There was nothing unusually brilliant about the ideas, which common sense should have suggested long ago. They were that a contractor should be compelled to satisfactorily finish one contract before he was given another, and that on streets where sewers were to be laid the sewers should be laid before the streets were paved, and not afterwards, as seems to have been the custom.

THE DOW LAW.

The Ohio liquor license law is ages behind the times. As a police regulation to secure the character of the saloonkeepers it is worthless; as a source of revenue it is ridiculous. The 58 saloons in this city turned in less than $9,000 tax for the first half of the year; the 135 in the county paid but a little over $23,000. The Dow law with its low tax results in a multitude of low dives and drinking dens. Even drinking men are opposed to this. High license means better regulated saloons, and, if the time is not yet ripe for the total abolition of the saloons in Ohio, high license would be infinitely preferable to the iniquitous Dow law that allows anyone, no matter what his or her character, to start a saloon if he can raise a paltry $200.

BICYCLE RACES

Every Event Was Very Hotly Contested.

M'LAIN DEFEATED STEVENSON

There Was a Serious Spill In the Five Mile Amateur Handicap Race and Fred Lehman Received a Broken Collar Bone. Rigby Took Second In the Big Four Championship Race.

The bicycle meet held yesterday afternoon at Columbian park was an immense success, and between 1,600 and 1,700 people paid admission at the gate.

The officials were referee and starter, James A. Sanford, of Cleveland; judges, M. C. Davidson, G. Y. Travis, S. T. Herbert, W. L. Taylor; scorer, George Hale; clerks of course, Herman Pace, Homer Taylor, D. C. Thomas; timers, W. E. Rex, C. R. Harsha, J. V. Oliver; umpires, Walter Morris, J. G. Stevenson. The officials did their work in a splendid manner and not one kick was registered. Mr. Sanford, of Cleveland, deserves special credit for the way in which he saw that every rider was given a fair show. The Press cyclers were warned before the races started that if he saw any evidence of team work they would all be disqualified. Again when one of the starters used profane language, Mr. Sanford immediately called him down, and stated that any rider or his starter who used profane language on the track would be disqualified. It is safe to say no more orderly crowd was ever seen at Columbian park, and the races were conducted in a fair and impartial manner.

THE RACES.

Every Rider Was Out For Blood and There Were Some Hot Finishes.

The races were not started until almost 3 o'clock, and then the first race of the day was called. Every starter was present and it was necessary to run the race in heats.

One Mile-Open Amateur.

First heat—McLain, Pittsburgh, first; Stevenson, Detroit, second; McCready, Pittsburgh, third; Joseph, Detroit, fourth. Time 1:07.

Second heat—Holmden, Delaware, first; Burson, Pittsburgh, second; Orr, Cleveland, third. Time 1:08.

Final heat—McLain, Pittsburgh, first; Stevenson, Detroit, second; McCready, Pittsburgh, third; Holmden, Delaware, fourth. Time 1:07 1/2.

One Half Mile Open—Professional.

There were 10 starters in this race, as Glen Wylie, R. D. Bruce and B. F. Wade did not come to the city. Starbuck was riding a 112 gear wheel and got a poor start and was never in the race. When the riders turned into the stretch, Poutch, of Louisville, was several feet in the lead, but he took a spill and rolled off the track in time to prevent a mixup. The race resulted as follows:

Pease, Indianapolis, first; Oldfield, Toledo, second; Gordon, Indianapolis, third; Blackmore, Cleveland, fourth. Time 1:08.

Big Four Championship, Amateur.

This was one of the best races of the day, and was for the one mile championship of East Liverpool, Lisbon, Salem and Wellsville. Every man who had entered took part in this race, and there were eleven starters. From the time the referee shouted go every man went in to win. When the half was reached Tarr passed the tape in front, closely followed by Umstead, Apple and Rigby in the order named. Pell took a fall at the first quarter and was out of the race. When the men turned into the last quarter Rigby passed Tarr and Apple, and pushed up to Umstead, who was then in the lead, and the race down the home stretch could not have been more exciting, Umstead winning by a few inches. The result was as follows:

Umstead, Salem, first; Rigby, East Liverpool, second; Tarr, Lisbon, third; Apple, Wellsville, fourth. Time 2:21.

Special Race.

The special race, three half mile heats, between Stevenson, the one armed rider of Detroit, and Paul McLain, of Pittsburgh, was run at various times in the afternoon. The first heat the men were paced by Burson, and it was won by McLain in 1:05. The next heat Joseph, of Detroit, did the pacing and the finish was very exciting, Stevenson passing McLain on the home stretch and winning in 1:12 1/2. The final heat the men did not have a pacemaker and loafed until the stretch was reached, McLain winning the spurt and the final heat of the race in 1:46.

Two Mile Lap Race—Professional.

The two-mile lap professional race was one of the prettiest, and most exciting of the day, as every lap meant a finish. There were nine starters, but on the second lap M. A. Rutter, of Lisbon, took a spill just as he reached the judges' stand. The result:

First lap—Oldfield, Toledo, first; Poutch, Louisville, second; Pease, Indianapolis, third.

Second lap—Pease, Indianapolis, first; Oldfield, Toledo, second; Poutch, Louisville, third.

Third lap—Pease, Indianapolis, first; Oldfield, Toledo, second; Starbuck, Philadelphia, third.

Fourth lap and final—Pease, Indianapolis, first; Oldfield, Toledo, second; Poutch, Louisville, third.

The result of the race showed that Pease had 14 points, Oldfield 10 points and Poutch 7 points. The time was 5:01 1/2.

One Mile Handicap—Amateur.

There were 24 starters in this race and the first man had a handicap of 100 yards. Spills were numerous and the first man to go down was Harry Logan, followed by McCready, Pittsburgh, Lehman, Canton, and Tarr, Lisbon. McCready, who was on the scratch, was not a consideration in the race and was outclassed. Stevenson, who had a handicap, overtook the bunch on the last lap and won the race in a splendid way. The result:

Stevenson, Detroit, five yards, first; Holmden, Delaware, 15 yards, second; Burson, Allegheny, 25 yards, third; Apple, Wellsville, 100 yards, fourth. Time, 2:12.

Special Half Mile Race.

The special half mile race between Charles Wesley Flowers, Fort Scott, Kansas, on foot, and Carl Javeins, aged 6 years, on a bicycle, was won by the latter in 2:31.

Two Mile Handicap, Professional.

There were 10 starters in the two mile handicap, and it was fight from the tape. Starbuck was one of the scratch men, but he was never in the race. When the men crossed the tape the first time Beamer, of Sidney, 100 yards, was leading. The next heat Blackmore, of Cleveland, 125 yards, was ahead. The third heat Rutter, of Lisbon, 125 yards, crossed the tape first. The scratch men closed the gap on this heat, and the race resulted as follows:

Poutch, Louisville, scratch, first; Pease, Indianapolis, 25 yards, second; Peltier, Detroit, 125 yards, third; Gordon, Indianapolis, 75 yards, fourth. Time, 4:28.

One Mile Open—Amateur.

The race was run in heats and resulted as follows:

First heat—Stevenson, Detroit, first; McLain, Pittsburgh, second; Burson, Allegheny, third. Time 1:09.

Second heat—Dannemiller, Canton, first; Orr, Cleveland, second; Holmden, Delaware, third; Lehman, Canton, fourth. Time 1:08.

Final heat—McLain, Pittsburgh, first; Stevenson, Detroit, second; Burson, Allegheny, third. Time at half 1:15.

Time for mile, 2:22 1/2. Joseph, of Detroit, took a spill in the second heat when he was well up in the bunch.

Starbuck Against Time.

J. Frank Starbuck went half a mile with flying start for the track record. The first quarter was made in 31 and the last in 33, the half being made in 1:04. The wheel he rode was geared to 112.

Five Mile Handicap—Amateur.

The five mile handicap had 24 starters and was hotly contested. The most disastrous spill of the day occurred in this race. As the men were coming down the stretch on the fifth lap Rigby, Logan, Bott, Joseph, Reeves and Lehman went down in a heap, and when they had been gathered up it was found that Lehman, of Canton, had his collar bone broken. He was brought down town in the patrol and the race continued and resulted as follows:

Stevenson, Detroit, 25 yards, first; Holmden, Delaware, 75 yards, second; McLain, Pittsburgh, scratch, third; McCready, Pittsburgh, 100 yards, fourth. Time, 12:05.

Three Mile Lap Race—Amateur.

By the time this race had arrived the riders had grown tired and there were only four starters in this race, and it resulted as follows:

Joseph, Detroit, first; Burson, Allegheny, second; McLain, Pittsburgh, third; Holmden, Delaware, fourth. Time, 8:26. Joseph had 18 points, Burson 16, and McLain 14. Joseph gets all the prizes, as he distanced his competitors in this race.

Notes.

George Hale and J. O. Stevenson worked hard and long to make the match a success, and are to be commended for the large attendance and excellent order kept on the grounds.

The visiting wheelmen thought the track was a dandy, but said it should be banked.

Starbuck had many admirers in the audience, but he wasn't in it.

Stevenson, the one armed man, captured the crowd from the start, and almost everybody wanted to see him defeat McLain.

But Will Do So on His Return to Columbus from Duluth Next Tuesday—The News Caused Much Surprise in This City and County.

LISBON, Aug. 11.—[Special]—Last evening the state board of pardons unanimously recommended the pardon of Jesse McGregor, of this county.

Governor Bushnell is in Duluth and will not return to Columbus until Tuesday or Wednesday and McGregor will probably not be pardoned and released until the governor's return.

The petition for pardon was presented to the board by J. C. Hinelin, of Ravenna. It bore the signatures of 88 residents of Columbiana county.

McGregor's Crime.

McGregor was convicted of murder in the second degree November 28, 1894 for the killing of Lizzie Ewing at Wellsville. The Ewing woman had been missing for nearly a year and the body, wrapped up, was found buried in her yard under a chicken coop on May 30, 1894. The evidence against McGregor was mainly circumstantial. The trial was a noted one and attracted wide attention.

Although it was known an effort was being made to secure a pardon for McGregor the news of the action of the pardon board caused much surprise in this city and county.

Wheeling Paper Reports He Has Bought Tiltonville for $7,500.

James Baum is reported by the Wheeling News to have bought the Tiltonville Sanitary pottery for $7,500.

Mr. Baum, the News says, was in Tiltonville this week and told the people he was trying to raise a stock company for the purpose of operating the plant.

He met with hearty encouragement, and if he can do as well in the next few days as he did yesterday there is not a chance of failure. William McDowell took $250 in stock, two physicians took small amounts and William Galagher has agreed to take $500. Mr. Baum only wants stock enough taken to put on a new roof and make other repairs about the factory and he will furnish the money for operating expenses. The plant, when running, employs about 100 men.

The Return of the Rations.

In the civil war our soldiers faced privation and hunger. A little story in H. Clay Trumbull's book, "War Memories of a Chaplain," tells of the spirit in which they sometimes did it.

While before Petersburg doing siege work in the summer of 1864, our men had wormy hard tack served out to them. It was a severe trial to the men. Breaking open the biscuits and finding live worms in them, they would throw the pieces in the trenches, although the orders were to keep the trenches clean.

A brigade officer of the day, seeing some of these scraps along our front, called out sharply to our men:

"Throw that hard tack out of the trenches." Then, as the men promptly gathered it up, he added, "Don't you know that you've no business to throw hard tack in the trenches?"

Out from the injured soldier heard there came the reasonable explanation, "We've thrown it out two or three times, sir, but it crawls back."

City Boy's Idea.

A Gallatin county farmer hired a boy from the city to assist him through the summer. The farmer told the kid to go out to the barn lot and salt the calf. The kid took a quart of salt and industriously rubbed it into the calf's hide. The colts got after the calf for the salt and had about all the hair licked off the animal before its condition was discovered. —Montgomery (Ills.) News.

BICYCLE RACES

Every Event Was Very Hotly Contested.

M'LAIN DEFEATED STEVENSON

There Was a Serious Spill in the Five Mile Amateur Handicap Race and Fred Lehman Received a Broken Collar Bone. Rigby Took Second in the Big Four Championship Race.

The bicycle meet held yesterday afternoon at Columbian park was an immense success, and between 1,600 and 1,700 people paid admission at the gate.

The officials were referee and starter, James A. Sanford, of Cleveland; judges, M. C. Davidson, G. Y. Travis, S. T. Herbert, W. L. Taylor; scorer, George Hale; clerks of course, Herman Pacey, Homer Taylor, D. C. Thomas; timers, W. E. Rex, C. R. Harsha, J. V. Oliver; umpires, Walter Morris, J. G. Stevenson. The officials did their work in a splendid manner and not one kick was registered. Mr. Sanford, of Cleveland, deserves special credit for the way in which he saw that every rider was given a fair show. The Press cyclers were warned before the races started that if he saw any evidence of team work they would all be disqualified. Again when one of the starters used profane language, Mr. Sanford immediately called him down, and stated that any rider or his starter who used profane language on the track would be disqualified. It is safe to say no more orderly crowd was ever seen at Columbian park, and the races were conducted in a fair and impartial manner.

THE RACES.

Every Rider Was Out For Blood and There Were Some Hot Finishes.

The races were not started until almost 3 o'clock, and then the first race of the day was called. Every starter was present and it was necessary to run the race in heats.

One Mile-Open Amateur.

First heat—McLain, Pittsburgh, first; Stevenson, Detroit, second; McCready, Pittsburgh, third; Joseph, Detroit, fourth. Time 1:07.

Second heat—Holmden, Delaware, first; Burson, Pittsburgh, second; Orr, Cleveland, third. Time 1:08.

Final heat—McLain, Pittsburgh, first; Stevenson, Detroit, second; McCready, Pittsburgh, third; Holmden, Delaware, fourth. Time 1:07½.

One Half Mile Open—Professional.

There were 10 starters in this race, as Glen Wylie, R. D. Bruce and B. F. Wade did not come to the city. Starbuck was riding a 112 gear wheel and got a poor start and was never in the race. When the riders turned into the stretch, Poutch, of Louisville, was several feet in the lead, but he took a spill and rolled off the track in time to prevent a mixup. The race resulted as follows:

Pease, Indianapolis, first; Oldfield, Toledo, second; Gordon, Indianapolis, third; Blackmore, Cleveland, fourth. Time 1:08.

Big Four Championship, Amateur.

This was one of the best races of the day, and was for the one mile championship of East Liverpool, Lisbon, Salem and Wellsville. Every man who had entered took part in this race, and there were eleven starters. From the time the referee shouted go every man went in to win. When the half was reached Tarr passed the tape in front, closely followed by Umstead, Apple and Rigby in the order named. Pell took a fall at the first quarter and was out of the race. When the men turned into the last quarter Rigby passed Tarr and Apple, and pushed up to Umstead, who was then in the lead, and the race down the home stretch could not have been more exciting, Umstead winning by a few inches. The result was as follows:

Umstead, Salem, first; Rigby, East Liverpool, second; Tarr, Lisbon, third; Apple, Wellsville, fourth. Time 2:21.

Special Race.

The special race, three half mile heats, between Stevenson, the one armed rider of Detroit, and Paul McLain, of Pittsburgh, was run at various times in the afternoon. The first heat the men were paced by Burson, and it was won by McLain in 1:05. The next heat Joseph, of Detroit, did the pacing and the finish was very exciting, Stevenson passing

Two Mile Lap Race—Professional.

The two-mile lap professional race was one of the prettiest, and most exciting of the day, as every lap meant a finish. There were nine starters, but on the second lap M. A. Rutter, of Lisbon, took a spill just as he reached the judges' stand. The result:

First lap—Oldfield, Toledo, first; Poutch, Louisville, second; Pease, Indianapolis, third.

Second lap—Pease, Indianapolis, first; Oldfield, Toledo, second; Poutch, Louisville, third.

Third lap—Pease, Indianapolis, first; Oldfield, Toledo, second; Starbuck, Philadelphia, third.

Fourth lap and final—Pease, Indianapolis, first; Oldfield, Toledo, second; Poutch, Louisville, third.

The result of the race showed that Pease had 14 points, Oldfield 10 points and Poutch 7 points. The time was 5:01½.

One Mile Handicap—Amateur.

There were 24 starters in this race and the first man had a handicap of 100 yards. Spills were numerous and the first man to go down was Harry Logan, followed by McCready, Pittsburgh, Lehman, Canton, and Tarr, Lisbon. McCready, who was on the scratch, was not a consideration in the race and was outclassed. Stevenson, who had a handicap, overtook the bunch on the last lap and won the race in a splendid way. The result:

Stevenson, Detroit, five yards, first; Holmden, Delaware, 15 yards, second; Burson, Allegheny, 25 yards, third; Apple, Wellsville, 100 yards, fourth. Time, 2:12.

Special Half Mile Race.

The special half mile race between Charles Wesley Flowers, Fort Scott, Kansas, on foot, and Carl Javeins, aged 6 years, on a bicycle, was won by the latter in 2:31.

Two Mile Handicap, Professional.

There were 10 starters in the two mile handicap, and it was fight from the tape. Starbuck was one of the scratch men, but he was never in the race. When the men crossed the tape the first time Beamer, of Sidney, 100 yards, was leading. The next heat Blackmore, of Cleveland, 125 yards, was ahead. The third heat Rutter, of Lisbon, 125 yards, crossed the tape first. The scratch men closed the gap on this heat, and the race resulted as follows:

Poutch, Louisville, scratch, first; Pease, Indianapolis, 25 yards, second; Peltier, Detroit, 125 yards, third; Gordon, Indianapolis, 75 yards, fourth. Time, 4:28.

One Mile Open—Amateur.

The race was run in heats and resulted as follows:

First heat—Stevenson, Detroit, first; McLain, Pittsburgh, second; Burson, Allegheny, third. Time 1:09.

Second heat—Dannemiller, Canton, first; Orr, Cleveland, second; Holmden, Delaware, third; Lehman, Canton, fourth. Time 1:08.

Special Race.

The special race, three half mile heats, between Stevenson, the one armed rider of Detroit, and Paul McLain, of Pittsburgh, was run at various times in the afternoon. The first heat the men were paced by Burson, and it was won by McLain in 1:05. The next heat Joseph, of Detroit, did the pacing and the finish was very exciting, Stevenson passing

Time for mile, 2:22½. Joseph, of Detroit, took a spill in the second heat when he was well up in the bunch.

Starbuck Against Time.

J. Frank Starbuck went half a mile with flying start for the track record. The first quarter was made in 31 and the last in 33, the half being made in 1:04. The wheel he rode was geared to 112.

Five Mile Handicap—Amateur.

The five mile handicap had 24 starters and was hotly contested. The most disastrous spill of the day occurred in this race. As the men were coming down the stretch on the fifth lap Rigby, Logan, Bott, Joseph, Reeves and Lehman went down in a heap, and when they had been gathered up it was found that Lehman, of Canton, had his collar bone broken. He was brought down town in the patrol and the race continued and resulted as follows:

Stevenson, Detroit, 25 yards, first; Holmden, Delaware, 75 yards, second; McLain, Pittsburgh, scratch, third; McCready, Pittsburgh, 100 yards, fourth. Time, 12:05.

Three Mile Lap Race—Amateur.

By the time this race had arrived the riders had grown tired and there were only four starters in this race, and it resulted as follows:

Joseph, Detroit, first; Burson, Allegheny, second; McLain, Pittsburgh, third; Holmden, Delaware, fourth. Time, 8:26. Joseph had 18 points, Burson 16, and McLain 14. Joseph gets all the prizes, as he distanced his competitors in this race.

Notes.

Starbuck had many admirers in the audience, but he wasn't in it.

McGregor's Crime.

McGregor was convicted of murder in the second degree November 28, 1894 for the killing of Lizzie Ewing at Wellsville. The Ewing woman had been missing for nearly a year and the body, wrapped up, was found buried in her yard under a chicken coop on May 30, 1894. The evidence against McGregor was mainly circumstantial. The trial was a noted one and attracted wide attention.

Although it was known an effort was being made to secure a pardon for McGregor the news of the action of the pardon board caused much surprise in this city and county.

BAUM'S NEW POTTERY.

Wheeling Paper Reports He Has Bought Tiltonville for $7,500.

James Baum is reported by the Wheeling News to have bought the Tiltonville Sanitary pottery for $7,500.

Mr. Baum, the News says, was in Tiltonville this week and told the people he was trying to raise a stock company for the purpose of operating the plant. He met with hearty encouragement, and if he can do as well in the next few days as he did yesterday there is not a chance of failure. William McDowell took $250 in stock, two physicians took small amounts and William Gallagher has agreed to take $500. Mr. Baum only wants stock enough taken to put on a new roof and make other repairs about the factory and he will furnish the money for operating expenses. The plant, when running, employs about 100 men.

The Return of the Rations.

In the civil war our soldiers faced privation and hunger. A little story in H. Clay Trumbull's book, "War Memories of a Chaplain," tells of the spirit in which they sometimes did it.

While before Petersburg doing siege work in the summer of 1864, our men had wormy hard tack served out to them. It was a severe trial to the men. Breaking open the biscuits and finding live worms in them, they would throw the pieces in the trenches, although the orders were to keep the trenches clean.

A brigade officer of the day, seeing some of these scraps along our front, called out sharply to our men:

"Throw that hard tack out of the trenches." Then, as the men promptly gathered it up, he added, "Don't you know that you've no business to throw hard tack in the trenches?"

Out from the injured soldier heard there came the reasonable explanation, "We've thrown it out two or three times, sir, but it crawls back."

CITY BOY'S IDEAS.

A Gallatin county farmer hired a boy from the city to assist him through the summer. The farmer told the kid to go out to the barn lot and salt the calf. The kid took a quart of salt and industriously rubbed it into the calf's hide. The colts got after the calf for the salt and had about all the hair licked off the animal before its condition was discovered. —Montgomery (Ills.) News.

OUR CONSULAR SYSTEM

How the American Method Has Been Imitated Abroad.

IS SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

England Has Adopted the Principal Points of Our Plan—Germany Is Now About to Take Steps Tending to a Reorganization of the System It Uses.

Notwithstanding the attacks in the United States on our consular system, it is in some respects a model for other nations to follow. Reference has been made in the British parliament to the good work of American consuls, and the British government has been urged to have its consuls make reports on the American plan. This has been done in the last few years to a large extent and summaries of the British consular reports are now published every week in London, though a daily summary of American consular reports is issued from our state department, says the Philadelphia Press.

It is admitted that there are serious defects in our system by which unfit men get into the service and good ones are removed. But, taken altogether, it is believed to be a more efficient service than that of any other nation. Frank H. Mason, the very efficient consul general at Berlin, reports to the state department at Washington that an entire reorganization of the German consular system is now under consideration by the German government.

He says: "The scope and purpose of the proposed reform have been dictated by the new and enlarged functions which are imposed upon the foreign service at Germany, by the expansion of her foreign trade and by the valiant fight which this country is preparing to make for a leading and permanent place in all important foreign markets. Germany's consular service is organized on old lines. Under that system consuls are educated as lawyers and diplomats, pass the prescribed assessors' examination, undergo a period of training in the foreign office and become typical Prussian officials, with a good command of languages, a fair knowledge of diplomacy, international law and the history of treaties, but no practical acquaintance with industrial processes, commercial value or mercantile usages. As trained officials belonging to the privileged class many of the imperial consuls and the subordinates, as is now asserted by the German press, have evinced a certain contempt for trade and those engaged in it and have rejected requests for commercial aid and information as forming no part of their official duties.

"The exigencies of the wholly new situation that has been developed during the past ten years—stimulated, as it broadly hinted, by the recognized efficiency of American and other consuls in obtaining valuable information and promoting export trade—have created a demand for a radical reform of the entire consular system and its reorganization upon wholly different lines. In so far as the leading newspapers are informed, the propositions now under consideration are two:

"First.—To retain practically the present consular organization and to strengthen the commercial efficiency of the consulates by assigning to them commercial attaches, a plan that has been found to work well in the German consulates in the United States.

"Second.—To abolish permanent consuls and appoint in their stead experienced and capable merchants, who will give to the consular office a definite commercial character, while its legal and purely official duties are performed by young attaches trained in the usual manner.

"Whichever of the plans may be adopted, there is a general demand that the consular service shall remain, as now, a life career; that the basis of its personnel shall be a corps of consular pupils selected by competitive examination for their intelligence, energy and efficiency as students of modern languages, commercial law and technology, trained by special studies for their career, and then sent out to foreign parts to begin their life work as apprentices. For the purposes of this service, the world will be divided into four or five districts, for each of which the consular pupil will be specially educated in all that relates to languages, history and special commercial conditions. In such a division, Great Britain and its English speaking colonies would constitute one district, the United States a second, South America a third, China and Japan a fourth, the East Indies a fifth, and the consular pupil, prepared and assigned to one of these, would remain there during his career, thus saving the reckless waste of valuable knowledge and experience that occurs where a competent consular officer, familiar with the language and commercial uses of one foreign country, is suddenly transferred to another.

"The consular service is to be made like the great subsidized steamship lines, the effective agent of the government for pushing the trade of German merchants into every corner of the civilized world, and it will be reorganized ized, trained and equipped for its work with the same scientific thoroughness that characterizes the military, industrial and educational systems of the United States."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Mail reports received at the navy department showed that Admiral Watson was using every means to break up the insurgent traffic between the islands of the Philippine group. Commander Sperry of the Yorktown at Iloilo reported to Admiral Watson early in June that in his opinion the insurgents were throwing troops into Negros and Leyte from Luzon and the island of Panay.

Commander Sperry sent the gunboat Samar, under command of Ensign H. C. McFarland, to break up this traffic. In four days he destroyed 13 schooners along the coast of Panay. Each of these vessels had a full cargo. In each case the natives were set ashore with their personal effects.

A STRANGE TEST OF MANHOOD.

The ancient Clan Macleod used to exercise a strange test to prove the manhood of their chieftains. At Dunvegan castle, on the island of Skye, there is preserved the large horn known as "Rory More's Horn." This capacious vessel holds rather more than a bottle and a half of liquor. According to the old custom, every laird of Macleod was obliged on his coming of age to fill this horn with claret and without once laying it down to drain it to the dregs. This was taken as proof of his manhood, and he was then deemed a worthy successor to the lairds of the past.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 11.—Henry Gumble was appointed receiver of the Great Southern Hotel and Theater company. This step was caused by apprehension resulting from the appointment of a receiver for the company operating the hotel and was taken for the protection of creditors. Erie to Have New Engines.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 11.—The Erie railroad gave an order for 20 big compound freight engines to the Brooks Locomotive works, and it is also building five passenger engines at its own shops at Meadville. These are in addition to the 15 passenger engines which are to be delivered by Sept. 1. This is inferred to be the beginning of the movement to lift the Erie out of the differential class.

OUR CONSULAR SYSTEM

How the American Method Has Been Imitated Abroad.

IS SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

England Has Adopted the Principal Points of Our Plan—Germany Is Now About to Take Steps Tending to a Reorganization of the System It Uses.

Notwithstanding the attacks in the United States on our consular system, it is in some respects a model for other nations to follow. Reference has been made in the British parliament to the good work of American consuls, and the British government has been urged to have its consuls make reports on the American plan. This has been done in the last few years to a large extent and summaries of the British consular reports are now published every week in London, though a daily summary of American consular reports is issued from our state department, says the Philadelphia Press.

It is admitted that there are serious defects in our system by which unfit men get into the service and good ones are removed. But, taken altogether, it is believed to be a more efficient service than that of any other nation. Frank H. Mason, the very efficient consul general at Berlin, reports to the state department at Washington that an entire reorganization of the German consular system is now under consideration by the German government.

He says: "The scope and purpose of the proposed reform have been dictated by the new and enlarged functions which are imposed upon the foreign service at Germany, by the expansion of her foreign trade and by the valiant fight which this country is preparing to make for a leading and permanent place in all important foreign markets. Germany's consular service is organized on old lines. Under that system consuls are educated as lawyers and diplomats, pass the prescribed assessors' examination, undergo a period of training in the foreign office and become typical Prussian officials, with a good command of languages, a fair knowledge of diplomacy, international law and the history of treaties, but no practical acquaintance with industrial processes, commercial value or mercantile usages. As trained officials belonging to the privileged class many of the imperial consuls and the subordinates, as is now asserted by the German press, have evinced a certain contempt for trade and those engaged in it and have rejected requests for commercial aid and information as forming no part of their official duties.

The exigencies of the wholly new situation that has been developed during the past ten years—stimulated, as it broadly hinted, by the recognized efficiency of American and other consuls in obtaining valuable information and promoting export trade—have created a demand for a radical reform of the entire consular system and its reorganization upon wholly different lines. In so far as the leading newspapers are informed, the propositions now under consideration are two:

"First.—To retain practically the present consular organization and to strengthen the commercial efficiency of the consulates by assigning to them commercial attaches, a plan that has been found to work well in the German consulates in the United States.

"Second.—To abolish permanent consuls and appoint in their stead experienced and capable merchants, who will give to the consular office a definite commercial character, while its legal and purely official duties are performed by young attaches trained in the usual manner.

"Whichever of the plans may be adopted, there is a general demand that the consular service shall remain, as now, a life career; that the basis of its personnel shall be a corps of consular pupils selected by competitive examination for their intelligence, energy and efficiency as students of modern languages, commercial law and technology, trained by special studies for their career, and then sent out to foreign parts to begin their life work as apprentices. For the purposes of this service, the world will be divided into four or five districts, for each of which the consular pupil will be specially educated in all that relates to languages, history and special commercial conditions. In such a division, Great Britain and its English speaking colonies would constitute one district, the United States a second, South America a third, China and Japan a fourth, the East Indies a fifth, and the consular pupil, prepared and assigned to one of these, would remain there during his career, thus saving the reckless waste of valuable knowledge and experience that occurs where a competent consular officer, familiar with the language and commercial uses of one foreign country, is suddenly transferred to another.

"The consular service is to be made, like the great subsidized steamship lines, the effective agent of the government for pushing the trade of German merchants into every corner of the civilized world, and it will be reorganized ized, trained and equipped for its work with the same scientific thoroughness that characterizes the military, industrial and educational systems of the United States."

Watson's Vessels Using Means to Break Up the Insurgent Inter- Island Traffic.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Mail reports received at the navy department showed that Admiral Watson was using every means to break up the insurgent traffic between the islands of the Philippine group. Commander Sperry of the Yorktown at Iloilo reported to Admiral Watson early in June that in his opinion the insurgents were throwing troops into Negros and Leyte from Luzon and the island of Panay.

Commander Sperry sent the gunboat Samar, under command of Ensign H. C. McFarland, to break up this traffic. In four days he destroyed 13 schooners along the coast of Panay. Each of these vessels had a full cargo. In each case the natives were set ashore with their personal effects.

A Strange Test of Manhood.

The ancient Clan Macleod used to exercise a strange test to prove the manhood of their chieftains. At Dunvegan castle, on the island of Skye, there is preserved the large horn known as "Rory More's Horn." This capacious vessel holds rather more than a bottle and a half of liquor. According to the old custom, every laird of Macleod was obliged on his coming of age to fill this horn with claret and without once laying it down to drain it to the dregs. This was taken as a proof of his manhood, and he was then deemed a worthy successor to the lairds of the past.

"Then why do you ask me how my health is every time we meet and stand around and look bored if I tell you?"—Chicago Times-Herald.

FILIPINOS' GRIEVANCES.

Captain Martin Tells of Their Principal Complaints.

WAS HEARTILY TIRED OF THE WAR

He Escaped From Aguinaldo's Army and Makes a Statement Concerning the Purposes Which the Natives Expect to Achieve—Two Courses to End the War.

The New York Journal's correspondent, writing from Manila under date of June 15 about the Filipinos' grievances, says:

I was able to secure an interview with Captain Martin, who escaped from the insurgent army. Captain Martin was in General Baldermo Aguinaldo's division, and under his supervision all the intrenchments surrounding Paranaque las Pinas and numerous other towns in the province of Cavite were constructed.

He said he was heartily tired of the war, and for his part believed in the promises of the Americans, and for that reason, after having read the proclamation of the president, deserted his army and came to Manila for the purpose of trying to secure a conference with the officers of the insurgent army in the southern provinces of Luzon.

Captain Martin says the natives' principal grievances were:

First.—That the Americans promised them insufficient, indefinite guarantees; that our offers are of such a general nature that the majority of the people are led to believe that it is but a repetition of Spanish tricks to get them to give up their arms.

Second.—That we protect and leave in power the Spanish priests, saying that so long as we do this they will never give up Spanish prisoners. The natives hate the Spaniards, particularly the priests and officials, with a hate born of long suffering.

Third.—They object to our allowing Chinese labor in the islands. They say if we open the ports to Chinese or allow them to come here they will murder every Chinaman in the interior.

Captain Martin further confirms the many reports that every officer in the insurgent army who has shown a leaning toward peace or surrender is promptly put out of the way or reduced in rank.

For that reason, he says, Aguinaldo's brother superseded Trias, former commander of the forces in Cavite, Batanzas and the Laguna de Bay provinces. I asked him where the insurgents got all their power and ammunition, and he replied that there were powder factories all over the island, two in Cavite alone, one at Imus, one at San Francisco del Monte, and that the insurgents had plenty of lead and shells; that in the three provinces named the insurgents had over 4,000 rifles and several cannon.

I asked him why, if the insurgents were brave and thought that they could stand up against the Americans, they did not show fight oftener, instead of running away after doing a little skirmish firing.

"That is not their plan," he said; "we were not taught to fight that way. Our belief has been that, while you could capture the small territory around Manila and the largest seaports, you never could whip or catch us in the interior, and that we could hold out against you indefinitely in the mountains, where we could live as well as in the valleys."

"But wouldn't it be better to enjoy the blessings of peace under our government than to turn yourselves into a tribe of savages, driven from place to place?" I asked.

"Yes, I think so," said the captain, "or I would not be here, but our generals do not, and they prefer to fight and take their chances rather than to be again governed by the priests and compete with the Chinese."

Our pacific and friendly treatment of the natives in Manila is having a marked influence upon them, and an influence that the Spaniards and English in Manila do not altogether approve. They think we are giving them too much rein, although there are many Englishmen who say they do not doubt that in the end it will produce a better effect than an opposite course. The Spanish, however, are not so sanguine.

Said an old Spanish resident to me: "You Americans mean well, but are giving these Filipinos so much liberty that they are drunk with it. In my factory I employ 300 natives. I can't do anything with them, although I pay them much more than I ever did before. They are beginning to get foreign ideas of organized labor. If I attempt to discharge one, I get a notification that they will all quit, no matter what my reason is for discharging the man. Then, too, they all want to get out and fight. You will never succeed if you let these people govern you or share in any important department of the government. It will take generations of education to make them realize their own ignorance."

Another resident said to me, in talking of the recent act of General Otis in appointing Filipino judges and justices in the civil and criminal courts: "You have made the gravest mistake possible. You may not realize it now, but wait until your American capitalists come over here and are forced to depend upon a native's idea of how to secure their land grants, their franchises and their rights in civil procedure. The whole thing is ridiculous."

I am not yet prepared to share that opinion. I have met most of the judges that General Otis has appointed and know many of their associates in Manila, and while I am not prepared to pass upon their legal ability, I think they are men of more than ordinary ability and honesty.

Saturday our boys were treated to some new native tricks, one of which was the ruse of "playing possum." Some of the half dead insurgents lying in the trenches thrust bayonets into our men coming to their relief for the purpose of taking them back to the hospital. Early in the fight we learned that a white flag often simply meant that if we respected it and marched on a charge of lead awaited the rear guard. We have also taken wounded insurgents from the field, treated them in our general hospital and given them liberty, only to find them suddenly disappear across the lines to renew the fight against us.

We are attempting a large undertaking when we try to conquer them town by town. They run out like sheep when we advance and flock back upon our departure, for we cannot possibly garrison every town. Many places we have taken and subsequently abandoned are now reoccupied by the insurgents. Aguinaldo's surrender would unquestionably put an end to the conflict. His name is the charm that holds them all together. The defeat or surrender of any other general or provinece would not materially affect Aguinaldo's main forces.

It was hoped the influence of the liberal and successful government of Negros island would have a weight with the insurgents, but no such result is apparent. Only two courses remain open—one to continue our campaign and scatter and kill them until we reduce the native army to a band of outlaws; the other to make large concessions and definite overtures and promises far in excess of what have already been proffered. To count upon their becoming disorganized, divided by internal strife, starved out or tired of fighting is a groundless and baseless hope.

The future influence of the Spaniards and the part they will play in the government of these islands are questions for our gravest thinkers to contemplate. The Spaniard is making a desperate effort to regain his influence over the native. They speak the same language, they worship before the same altar, and they are associated in the same business.

Another problem is that of the church, for 300 years the partner of the state. The church has enormous spiritual as well as financial interests in these islands. The white dome of a cathedral is the landmark of every pueblo in the Philippine Islands. Church revenues have been twofold—the people, its tenants, and the state, its vassal. Although opposed to the tyrannical rule of Spanish friars, the church is still a tremendous power. Native curates have donned the robes hastily or forcibly shed by the Spanish incumbents and wielded a powerful influence over the people and the insurgent army, for the Tagalo is pre-eminently religious, superstitious and fanatical.

LIKES ROOF GARDEN IDEA.

Baptist Pastor Approves of Mr. Moody's Plan For Churches.

"I had architects examine this church recently with the view to making a roof garden," said the Rev. Charles E. Nash, pastor of the North Baptist church, on West Eleventh street, in New York, to a Chicago Tribune correspondent, "but I am sorry to say they found the walls so weak that the plan could not be adopted. A roof garden on my church has been a pet scheme of mine for years, and I am glad that Mr. Moody takes the stand he does in his interview the other morning."

The North Baptist church is a brick structure, built early in the century.

"It will not be long before we shall build a new church," said Rev. Nash, "and when we do we shall most assuredly have a roof garden. Would the people who crowd the roof gardens to see a theatrical performance enter a theater these hot days to see the same performance? No. The roof gardens are cool and comfortable. That is why they go there."

"Why should we not have cool, comfortable roof gardens for our religious services during these hot days instead of expecting the people to come to our hot, stuffy churches? The church roof garden certainly will be in existence before many years, and the sooner the better."

FILIPINOS' GRIEVANCES.

Captain Martin Tells of Their Principal Complaints.

WAS HEARTILY TIRED OF THE WAR

He Escaped From Aguinaldo's Army and Makes a Statement Concerning the Purposes Which the Natives Expect to Achieve—Two Courses to End the War.

The New York Journal's correspondent, writing from Manila under date of June 15 about the Filipinos' grievances, says:

I was able to secure an interview with Captain Martin, who escaped from the insurgent army. Captain Martin was in General Baldemero Aguinaldo's division, and under his supervision all the intrenchments surrounding Paranaque las Pinas and numerous other towns in the province of Cavite were constructed.

He said he was heartily tired of the war, and for his part believed in the promises of the Americans, and for that reason, after having read the proclamation of the president, deserted his army and came to Manila for the purpose of trying to secure a conference with the officers of the insurgent army in the southern provinces of Luzon.

Captain Martin says the natives' principal grievances were:

First.—That the Americans promised them insufficient, indefinite guarantees; that our offers are of such a general nature that the majority of the people are led to believe that it is but a repetition of Spanish tricks to get them to give up their arms.

Second.—That we protect and leave in power the Spanish priests, saying that so long as we do this they will never give up Spanish prisoners. The natives hate the Spaniards, particularly the priests and officials, with a hate born of long suffering.

Third.—They object to our allowing Chinese labor in the islands. They say if we open the ports to Chinese or allow them to come here they will murder every Chinaman in the interior.

Captain Martin further confirms the many reports that every officer in the insurgent army who has shown a leaning toward peace or surrender is promptly put out of the way or reduced in rank.

For that reason, he says, Aguinaldo's brother superseded Trias, former commander of the forces in Cavite, Batanzas and the Laguna de Bay provinces. I asked him where the insurgents got all their power and ammunition, and he replied that there were powder factories all over the island, two in Cavite alone, one at Imus, one at San Francisco del Monte, and that the insurgents had plenty of lead and shells; that in the three provinces named the insurgents had over 4,000 rifles and several cannon.

I asked him why, if the insurgents were brave and thought that they could stand up against the Americans, they did not show fight oftener, instead of running away after doing a little skirmish firing.

"That is not their plan," he said; "we were not taught to fight that way. Our belief has been that, while you could capture the small territory around Manila and the largest seaports, you never could whip or catch us in the interior, and that we could hold out against you indefinitely in the mountains, where we could live as well as in the valleys."

"But wouldn't it be better to enjoy the blessings of peace under our government than to turn ourselves into a tribe of savages, driven from place to place?" I asked.

"Yes, I think so," said the captain, "or I would not be here, but our generals do not, and they prefer to fight and take their chances rather than to be again governed by the priests and compete with the Chinese."

Our pacific and friendly treatment of the natives in Manila is having a marked influence upon them, and an influence that the Spaniards and English in Manila do not altogether approve. They think we are giving them too much rein, although there are many Englishmen who say they do not doubt that in the end it will produce a better effect than an opposite course. The Spanish, however, are not so sanguine.

Said an old Spanish resident to me: "You Americans mean well, but are giving these Filipinos so much liberty that they are drunk with it. In my factory I employ 300 natives. I can't do anything with them, although I pay them much more than I ever did before. They are beginning to get foreign ideas of organized labor. If I attempt to discharge one, I get a notification that they will all quit, no matter what my reason is for discharging the man. Then, too, they all want to get out and fight. You will never succeed if you let these people govern you or share in any important department of the government. It will take generations of education to make them realize their own ignorance."

Another resident said to me, in talking of the recent act of General Otis in appointing Filipino judges and justices in the civil and criminal courts: "You have made the gravest mistake possible. You may not realize it now, but wait until your American capitalists come over here and are formed to depend upon a native's idea of how to secure their land grants, their franchises and their rights in civil procedure. The whole thing is ridiculous."

I am not yet prepared to share that opinion. I have met most of the judges that General Otis has appointed and know many of their associates in Manila, and, while I am not prepared to pass upon their legal ability, I think they are men of more than ordinary ability and honesty.

Saturday our boys were treated to some new native tricks, one of which was the ruse of "playing possum." Some of the half dead insurgents lying in the trenches thrust bayonets into our men coming to their relief for the purpose of taking them back to the hospital. Early in the fight we learned that a white flag often simply meant that if we respected it and marched on a charge of lead awaited the rear guard. We have also taken wounded insurgents from the field, treated them in our general hospital and given them liberty, only to find them suddenly disappear across the lines to renew the fight against us.

We are attempting a large undertaking when we try to conquer them town by town. They run out like sheep when we advance and flock back upon our departure, for we cannot possibly garrison every town. Many places we have taken and subsequently abandoned are now reoccupied by the insurgents. Aguinaldo's surrender would unquestionably put an end to the conflict. His name is the charm that holds them all together. The defeat or surrender of any other general or province would not materially affect Aguinaldo's main forces.

It was hoped the influence of the liberal and successful government of Negros island would have a weight with the insurgents, but no such result is apparent. Only two courses remain open—one to continue our campaign and scatter and kill them until we reduce the native army to a band of outlaws; the other to make large concessions and definite overtures and promises far in excess of what have already been proffered. His name is the charm that holds them all together. The defeat or surrender of any other general or provinece would not materially affect Aguinaldo's main forces.

It was hoped the influence of the liberal and successful government of Negros Island would have a weight with the insurgents, but no such result is apparent. Only two courses remain open—one to continue our campaign and scatter and kill them until we reduce the native army to a band of outlaws; the other to make large concessions and definite overtures and promises far in excess of what have already been proffered. To count upon their becoming disorganized, divided by internal strife, starved out or tired of fighting is a groundless and baseless hope.

The future influence of the Spaniards and the part they will play in the government of these islands are questions for our gravest thinkers to contemplate. The Spaniard is making a desperate effort to regain his influence over the native. They speak the same language, they worship before the same altar, and they are associated in the same business.

Another problem is that of the church, for 300 years the partner of the state. The church has enormous spiritual as well as financial interests in these islands. The white dome of a cathedral is the landmark of every pueblo in the Philippine Islands. Church revenues have been twofold—the people, its tenants, and the state, its vassal. Although opposed to the tyrannical rule of Spanish friars, the church is still a tremendous power. Native curates have donned the robes hastily or forcibly shed by the Spanish incumbents and wielded a powerful influence over the people and the insurgent army, for the Tagalo is predominantly religious, superstitious and fanatical.

LIKES ROOF GARDEN IDEA.

Baptist Pastor Approves of Mr. Moody's Plan For Churches.

"I had architects examine this church recently with the view to making a roof garden," said the Rev. Charles E. Nash, pastor of the North Baptist church, on West Eleventh street, in New York, to a Chicago Tribune correspondent, "but I am sorry to say they found the walls so weak that the plan could not be adopted. A roof garden on my church has been a pet scheme of mine for years, and I am glad that Mr. Moody takes the stand he does in his interview the other morning."

The North Baptist church is a brick structure, built early in the century.

"It will not be long before we shall build a new church," said Rev. Nash, "and when we do we shall most assuredly have a roof garden. Would the people who crowd the roof gardens to see a theatrical performance enter a theater these hot days to see the same performance? No. The roof gardens are cool and comfortable.

That is why we do there.

"Why should we not have cool, comfortable roof gardens for our religious services during these hot days instead of expecting the people to come to our hot, stuffy churches? The church roof garden certainly will be in existence before many years, and the sooner the better."

WINNING WAYS.

"Money," said the philosopher, "may often do more harm than good. Sometimes the mighty dollar is a man's worst enemy."

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum, "and I often feel that a number of people love me for the enemies I have made."—Washington Star.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

15TH YEAR. NO. 54.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1899.

ISLANDS DEVASTATED.

Awful Destruction by Hurricane In West Indies.

PORTO RICO SUFFERED GREATLY.

SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO, Aug. 11.—Four native were drowned in the harbor here during the recent hurricane, 80 houses were demolished and hundreds were unroofed. The damage to property is estimated at $500,000. Commissary stores to the value of $50,000 were destroyed.

A dispatch by cable from Ponce said the town was almost destroyed. Almost all the frame buildings are down, the bridge is swept away and there is no communication between the port and the city proper. The damage to the port is estimated at about $250,000. Two natives are known to have been drowned. The records and property of the customhouse are ruined and all the vessels are ashore.

At Aibonito very little remains standing except the cathedral and the barracks. Four natives perished and three United States soldiers were badly injured. As the town is without food, government relief has been dispatched thither.

El Cayey was leveled to the ground, 200 houses being demolished. Two United States soldiers were injured there and many cavalry horses killed.

At Catano the entire plant of the Standard Oil company was ruined. The loss on the property is about $200,000.

At Bayamon a majority of the houses were destroyed and the rest were flooded. Two hundred cattle were killed and the railway was seriously damaged.

The village of Caroline was literally razed. At Caguas four persons were killed.

A courier from Humacao, capital of the province of that name, on the eastern coast of the island, reported the loss to property was estimated at about $500,000. The courier brought an official report from Captain Eben Swift of the Fifth United States cavalry, who says: "Humacao was totally destroyed by the hurricane. Forty-six bodies have been recovered and there are many more in the debris. Eight privates of Troop C were injured, two fatally. Sergeant King of the Eleventh infantry was injured. North, a discharged private, is missing. At the port of Humacao 18 bodies have been recovered. Eight hundred people are starving here."

Three persons were killed at Las Piedras and five at Junco.

Couriers from the other districts are anxiously expected at the palace. The steamer Slocum, Captain Thomas, enroute from Mayaguez to San Juan, was caught in the storm, but her passengers and crew were saved through the heroism of Mr. Single, the first officer.

The coffee crop is ruined and the loss will reach millions.

Very great injury has been done also to the orange crop.

No definite returns have yet been received from the southern section of the islands, apart from Ponce. It is certain, however, that the food supplies in the stricken districts have been destroyed, and in these quarters the quantity of government stores on hand is small. Relief wagons will be sent out in various directions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The secretary of war received a report from General Davis, commanding in Porto Rico, on the cyclone. He told of some damage to government property at various places, loss of two lives at San Juan by two small schooners sinking, shipping ashore at Ponce, and then said:

"The losses by the inhabitants is very great and extreme suffering must result. The last hurricane as severe as this was in 1876, when owing to the loss of houses, fruit and provisions there was famine. I would suggest public notice in the United States to the effect that contributions of food, clothing and money for the destitute would be received with the greatest gratitude and will be applied strictly to relief of destitute. Have appointed a board to supervise destitution. There are many thousands of families who are entirely homeless and very great distress must follow."

Authorities here believed all naval vessels to be safe.

ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., Aug. 11.—The island of Montserrat, British West Indies, was completely devastated by a hurricane. All the churches, estates and villages were destroyed and nearly 100 persons were killed. In addition many were injured and rendered homeless and terrible distress exists among the sufferers.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The governor of the Leeward islands, Sir Francis Fleming, confirming the dispatch from St. Thomas, D. W. I., announcing the devastation caused by the hurricane at the island of Montserrat, said 74 deaths were already known. He adds that 21 persons were killed at the island of Nevis. At Antigua one death was reported and many persons had been rendered homeless.

The other presidencies of the Leeward islands had not reported the damage done.

FRONT DE FRANCE, Island of Martinique, Aug. 11.—The authorities of the island of Guadeloupe were still with news from the interior. But other advices which had reached La Pointe-a-Pitre said the coffee and cocoa crops had been nearly totally destroyed. At La Pointe-a-Pitre seven persons were injured, and at Moule the damage done was considerable, and several persons were killed and wounded. At Petit Canal and Port Louis several persons were killed and a number injured. The villages of Grappon and Tamentin had been entirely destroyed and the lighthouse of Mouroux and Foscillo had been overturned. The town of St. Louis de Marie Galante suffered considerably. News from the British Antilles said that Antigua was seriously hit and that at St. Kitts 200 houses were destroyed.

OTIS CLOSED THE PORTS.

Reconnaissances Made—Rebel Loss In Recent Fighting Estimated at 100 Killed and 300 Wounded.

MANILA, Aug. 11.—Official reports received here from the scene of the recent fighting with the Filipinos said there were reconnaissances, during which the American troops found a few of the enemy. But there were no engagements of importance. A battalion of the Seventeenth infantry, under Major O'Brien, advanced very close to Angeles. The major reports there are about 250 insurgents there. A battalion of the Twelfth infantry made a reconnaissance in the direction of Porac, but the enemy there scattered. The main body of the American army is at Calulom. The line has been immaterially changed since the advance was stopped Wednesday, and now includes the towns of Guagua and Santa Arita.

Major General Otis issued an order closing the ports in the hands of the insurgents to inter-island traffic. Aguinaldo issued a decree July 24, dated from Tarlac, closing the insurgent ports to vessels flying the American flag and inviting vessels under other flags to visit them. Vessels under foreign flags can not traffic with these ports without running the blockade.

The gunboats Concord, Yorktown, Callao and Campagna bombarded San Fernando Tuesday. The Filipinos replied with cannon and musketry for an hour and then fled to the hills, the gunboats firing on them with their machine guns until the rebels disappeared. The bombardment was continued for some time afterwards and many houses were riddled and destroyed, but the town was not set on fire.

The gunboats did not land men. The rebel losses were not known.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The following cable was received from General Otis:

MANILA, Aug. 10.—Adjutant general, Washington: Captured letters, high insurrectionary exhorting inhabitants to hold out a little longer; that European recognition will be granted by Aug. 31 and that present United States administration will be overthrown.

This cable was also received:

MANILA, Aug. 10.

Adjutant General, Washington:

MacArthur's movement yesterday very successful; serves to clear country rear and left and right of insurgents; has advanced north to Calulom, six miles from San Fernando, whence he is now reconnoitering; his casualties 5 killed, 22 wounded. Officers wounded: Major Braden, Captain Abernethy, Thirty-sixth volunteers, leg and arm, moderate; Lieutenant Williams, Fifty-first Iowa, thigh, moderate. These troops operated to left and rear toward Santa Rita. MacArthur's advance under Wheaton and Liscum consists of Ninth, Twelfth, Seventeenth, part of Twenty-second regiments and portion of Fifty-first Iowa. Movement very difficult on account of mud and surface water. MacArthur reports insurgents' loss 100 killed, some 300 wounded; they were rapidly driven northward, and last evening apparently abandoned Porac line when they blew up powder works.

MILES CONSULTED WITH ROOT.

Believe the Former Brought Up Alger's Recent Order.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Major General Miles had a conference of more than half an hour with the secretary of war.

Secretary Root said the conference was devoted to military matters.

When it was suggested that there were rumors that he was consulting General Miles with reference to a change of commanders in the Philippines he said he had nothing to say on that subject.

It is known, however, that General Miles brought up the recent order of Secretary Alger upon the inspector general's department. That part which places the bureau under the direction of the secretary of war and omits the commanding general of the army is not satisfactory, it is said, to General Miles.

THE EAST END.

WANT CITY TO HELP

A Stronger Trestle Over Leak's Run Is Needed.

RAILWAY COMPANY TO PAY HALF

A Kilnman at the Laughlin Pottery Was Married in Steubenville—East End Streets Deserted Yesterday Afternoon—Stores Were Also Closed—News of the Suburb.

The temporary trestle erected by the street railway company, over Leak's run, near Ralston's crossing, may be replaced by a more modern structure within the next year. This statement was made by an employee of the railway yesterday.

The trestle is built of wood and its construction lasted but a few days. When this work was being done the management was asked if the structure would be temporary or permanent, to which no reply was received. It is now learned the company will, within a short time, ask council to erect a stone or iron bridge over the ravine, as the right of way to the company was granted over the avenue. The railway company will bear half the expense of the improvement if the city will go the balance.

A WEDDING.

A Workman at the Laughlin Pottery Wedded Last Night.

Last evening Miss Maggie Pool was married to William Patterson, of First avenue, at the residence of the bride's parents in Steubenville. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will make their home in East End. Mr. Patterson is a kilnman at the Laughlin pottery, and is very popular among his fellow workmen, who extend their best wishes.

A NEW KILN.

A Long Looked For Improvement at the Brick Yard.

Yesterday the work of hauling fire brick to the brick yard for the construction of the new kiln was commenced, and Monday the erection will be started. The kiln will be of the latest design and will have a capacity of 100,000. The brick to be used in the walls of the kiln are made at the company's plant at Salineville.

A DESERTED SUBURB.

Very Few Persons on East End Streets Yesterday Afternoon.

Between 1 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon the streets of East End were practically deserted. Every person who had the chance went to Columbian park, and even the store keepers took advantage of the races and closed their stores for the five hours.

Building News.

Charles Swan has commenced the erection of a five room house on Pennsylvania avenue, near Columbian park.

The several new residences being erected in the Klondike district by Harvey McHenry for parties residing in the south, were completed this afternoon.

PLANS FOR BILLET MILL

What the Rolling Mill Company Will Build.

HELLING FRUIT HOUSE SOLD

Teachers' Institute Closes Tonight—A Library Contest Held Yesterday—Farmers Want a New Road Constructed Along the River Bank—News of Interest.

When the rolling mill is completed the company will devote their time arranging details for the erection of either a wire or steel billet mill. While none of the members of the company will talk about the proposed mill, enough information was gained on the South Side yesterday to verify the rumor. The site of the new mill has not yet been selected, but the Pusey property, and a piece of land below the point, are being given careful consideration. Some minor plans for the mill have been drafted, but as yet everything is in a crude state.

BOUGHT A HOUSE.

The Helling Fruit Storage House Has Changed Hands.

E. W. Hewitt and W. C. Mahan have purchased the Helling fruit house at Mahan's. This is the largest fruit house in the county. It has a capacity for 30,000 barrels, 26,000 barrels being stored in it during 1896. It cost $28,000, the laying of stone alone costing $7,000. The owners asked $10,000 for the building, but they shaded this price to the purchasers. The new owners will have eight thousand barrels of apples of their own to store this fall, and a great many for other growers and dealers.

A GOOD THING.

Farmers Do Not Like the Present County Road.

It is said the residents of the country back of Chester will petition the commissioners of Hancock county to abandon the present roadway between the tracks of the Southside street railway and the extension of the Panhandle. The road is both dangerous and in bad condition.

THE sewer pipe trust has long ceased to be a news item.

THE expectation that the Whan-Grim cases will occupy two or three days shows that the lawyers are looking forward to a wordy riot.

REGARDING the fact that the city's funds are overdrawn nearly $5,000, has it occurred to anyone to inquire whether a city fund can be legally overdrawn.

THE wordy solicitude of city fathers for the welfare of the struggling taxpayer doesn't seem consistent with the actual disregard of the same individuals' interests.

WITH East Liverpool issuing sewer bonds without a petition from the people and Wellsville issuing sewer bonds on which the interest could not be collected until the bonds were redeemed, financiers abroad must have a peculiar opinion of the financial and legislative ability of the city councils in this neck of the woods.

GOOD, IF ACTED UPON.

Two suggestions were made at council Tuesday night regarding street contracts which, if acted upon, will result to the advantage of the city. There was nothing unusually brilliant about the ideas, which common sense should have suggested long ago. They were that a contractor should be compelled to satisfactorily finish one contract before he was given another, and that on streets where sewers were to be laid the sewers should be laid before the streets were paved, and not afterwards, as seems to have been the custom.

THE DOW LAW.

The Ohio liquor license law is ages behind the times. As a police regulation to secure the character of the saloonkeepers it is worthless; as a source of revenue it is ridiculous. The 58 saloons in this city turned in less than $9,000 tax for the first half of the year; the 135 in the county paid but a little over $23,000. The Dow law with its low tax results in a multitude of low dives and drinking dens. Even drinking men are opposed to this. High license means better regulated saloons, and, if the time is not yet ripe for the total abolition of the saloons in Ohio, high license would be infinitely preferable to the iniquitous Dow law that allows anyone, no matter what his or her character, to start a saloon if he can raise a paltry $200.

BICYCLE RACES

Every Event Was Very Hotly Contested.

M'LAIN DEFEATED STEVENSON

There Was a Serious Spill in the Five Mile Amateur Handicap Race and Fred Lehman Received a Broken Collar Bone. Rigby Took Second in the Big Four Championship Race.

The bicycle meet held yesterday afternoon at Columbian park was an immense success, and between 1,600 and 1,700 people paid admission at the gate.

The officials were referee and starter, James A. Sanford, of Cleveland; judges, M. C. Davidson, G. Y. Travis, S. T. Herbert, W. L. Taylor; scorer, George Hale; clerks of course, Herman Pacey, Homer Taylor, D. C. Thomas; timers, W. E. Rex, C. R. Harsha, J. V. Oliver; umpires, Walter Morris, J. G. Stevenson. The officials did their work in a splendid manner and not one kick was registered. Mr. Sanford, of Cleveland, deserves special credit for the way in which he saw that every rider was given a fair show. The Press cyclers were warned before the races started that if he saw any evidence of team work they would all be disqualified. Again when one of the starters used profane language, Mr. Sanford immediately called him down, and stated that any rider or his starter who used profane language on the track would be disqualified. It is safe to say no more orderly crowd was ever seen at Columbian park, and the races were conducted in a fair and impartial manner.

THE RACES.

Every Rider Was Out For Blood and There Were Some Hot Finishes.

The races were not started until almost 3 o'clock, and then the first race of the day was called. Every starter was present and it was necessary to run the race in heats.

One Mile--Open Amateur.

First heat—McLain, Pittsburgh, first; Stevenson, Detroit, second; McCready, Pittsburgh, third; Joseph, Detroit, fourth. Time 1:05.

Second heat—Holmden, Delaware, first; Burson, Pittsburgh, second; Orr, Cleveland, third. Time 1:08.

Final heat—McLain, Pittsburgh, first; Stevenson, Detroit, second; McCready, Pittsburgh, third; Holmden, Delaware, fourth. Time 1:07½.

One Half Mile Open—Professional.

There were 10 starters in this race, as Glen Wylie, R. D. Bruce and B. F. Wade did not come to the city. Starbuck was riding a 112 gear wheel and got a poor start and was never in the race. When the riders turned into the stretch, Poutch, of Louisville, was several feet in the lead, but he took a spill and rolled off the track in time to prevent a mixup. The race resulted as follows:

Pease, Indianapolis, first; Oldfield, Toledo, second; Gordon, Indianapolis, third; Blackmore, Cleveland, fourth. Time 1:08.

Big Four Championship, Amateur.

This was one of the best races of the day, and was for the one mile championship of East Liverpool, Lisbon, Salem and Wellsville. Every man who had entered took part in this race, and there were eleven starters. From the time the referee shouted go every man went in to win. When the half was reached Tarr passed the tape in front, closely followed by Umstead, Apple and Rigby in the order named. Pell took a fall at the first quarter and was out of the race. When the men turned into the last quarter Rigby passed Tarr and Apple, and pushed up to Umstead, who was then in the lead, and the race down the home stretch could not have been more exciting, Umstead winning by a few inches. The result was as follows:

Umstead, Salem, first; Rigby, East Liverpool, second; Tarr, Lisbon, third; Apple, Wellsville, fourth. Time 2:21.

Special Race.

The special race, three half mile heats, between Stevenson, the one armed rider of Detroit, and Paul McLain, of Pittsburgh, was run at various times in the afternoon. The first heat the men were paced by Burson, and it was won by McLain in 1:05. The next heat Joseph, of Detroit, did the pacing and the finish was very exciting, Stevenson passing McLain on the home stretch and winning in 1:12½. The final heat the men did not have a pacemaker and loafed until the stretch was reached, McLain winning the spurt and the final heat of the race in 1:36.

Two Mile Lap Race—Professional.

The two-mile lap professional race was one of the prettiest, and most exciting of the day, as every lap meant a finish. There were nine starters, but on the second lap M. A. Rutter, of Lisbon, took a spill just as he reached the judges' stand. The result:

First lap—Oldfield, Toledo, first; Poutch, Louisville, second; Pease, Indianapolis, third.

Second lap—Pease, Indianapolis, first; Oldfield, Toledo, second; Poutch, Louisville, third.

Third lap—Pease, Indianapolis, first; Oldfield, Toledo, second; Starbuck, Philadelphia, third.

Fourth lap and final—Pease, Indianapolis, first; Oldfield, Toledo, second; Poutch, Louisville, third.

The result of the race showed that Pease had 14 points, Oldfield 10 points and Poutch 7 points. The time was 5:01½.

One Mile Handicap—Amateur.

There were 24 starters in this race and the first man had a handicap of 100 yards. Spills were numerous and the first man to go down was Harry Logan, followed by McCready, Pittsburgh, Lehman, Canton, and Tarr, Lisbon. McCready, who was on the scratch, was not a consideration in the race and was outclassed. Stevenson, who had a handicap, overtook the bunch on the last lap and won the race in a splendid way. The result:

Stevenson, Detroit, five yards, first; Holmden, Delaware, 15 yards, second; Burson, Allegheny, 25 yards, third; Apple, Wellsville, 100 yards, fourth. Time, 2:12.

Special Half Mile Race.

The special half mile race between Charles Wesley Flowers, Fort Scott, Kansas, on foot, and Carl Javeins, aged 6 years, on a bicycle, was won by the latter in 2:31.

Two Mile Handicap, Professional.

There were 10 starters in the two mile handicap, and it was fight from the tape. Starbuck was one of the scratch men, but he was never in the race. When the men crossed the tape the first time Beamer, of Sidney, 100 yards, was leading. The next heat Blackmore, of Cleveland, 125 yards, was ahead. The third heat Rutter, of Lisbon, 125 yards, crossed the tape first. The scratch men closed the gap on this heat, and the race resulted as follows:

Poutch, Louisville, scratch, first; Pease, Indianapolis, 25 yards, second; Peltier, Detroit, 125 yards, third; Gordon, Indianapolis, 75 yards, fourth. Time, 4:28.

One Mile Open—Amateur.

The race was run in heats and resulted as follows:

First heat—Stevenson, Detroit, first; McLain, Pittsburgh, second; Burson, Allegheny, third. Time 1:09.

Second heat—Dannesteller, Canton, first; Orr, Cleveland, second; Holmden, Delaware, third; Lehman, Canton, fourth. Time 1:08.

Final heat—McLain, Pittsburgh, first; Stevenson, Detroit, second; Burson, Allegheny, third. Time at half 1:15.

Time for mile, 2:22½. Joseph, of Detroit, took a spill in the second heat when he was well up in the bunch.

Starbuck Against Time.

J. Frank Starbuck went half a mile with flying start for the track record. The first quarter was made in 31 and the last in 33, the half being made in 1:04. The wheel he rode was geared to 112.

Five Mile Handicap—Amateur.

The five mile handicap had 24 starters and was hotly contested. The most disastrous spill of the day occurred in this race. As the men were coming down the stretch on the fifth lap Rigby, Logan, Bott, Joseph, Reeves and Lehman went down in a heap, and when they had been gathered up it was found that Lehman, of Canton, had his collar bone broken. He was brought down town in the patrol and the race continued and resulted as follows:

Stevenson, Detroit, 25 yards, first; Holmden, Delaware, 75 yards, second; McLain, Pittsburgh, scratch, third; McCready, Pittsburgh, 100 yards, fourth. Time, 12:05.

Three Mile Lap Race—Amateur.

By the time this race had arrived the riders had grown tired and there were only four starters in this race, and it resulted as follows:

Joseph, Detroit, first; Burson, Allegheny, second; McLain, Pittsburgh, third; Holmden, Delaware, fourth. Time, 8:26. Joseph had 18 points, Burson 16, and McLain 14. Joseph gets all the prizes, as he distanced his competitors in this race.

Notes.

George Hale and J. O. Stevenson worked hard and long to make the match a success, and are to be commended for the large attendance and excellent order kept on the grounds.

The visiting wheelmen thought the track was a dandy, but said it should be banked.

Starbuck had many admirers in the audience, but he wasn't in it.

Stevenson, the one armed man, captured the crowd from the start, and almost everybody wanted to see him defeat McLain.

M'GREGOR PARDONED

Pardon Board Unanimously Recommends His Release.

GOVERNOR HAS NOT ACTED YET

But Will Do So on His Return to Columbus from Duluth Next Tuesday—The News Caused Much Surprise in This City and County.

LISBON, Aug. 11.—[Special]—Last evening the state board of pardons unanimously recommended the pardon of Jesse McGregor, of this county.

Governor Bushnell is in Duluth and will not return to Columbus until Tuesday or Wednesday and McGregor will probably not be pardoned and released until the governor's return.

The petition for pardon was presented to the board by J. C. Hinelin, of Ravenna. It bore the signatures of 88 residents of Columbian county.

McGregor's Crime.

McGregor was convicted of murder in the second degree November 28, 1894 for the killing of Lizzie Ewing at Wellsville. The Ewing woman had been missing for nearly a year and the body, wrapped up, was found buried in her yard under a chicken coop on May 30, 1894. The evidence against McGregor was mainly circumstantial. The trial was a noted one and attracted wide attention.

Although it was known an effort was being made to secure a pardon for McGregor the news of the action of the pardon board caused much surprise in this city and county.

BAUM'S NEW POTTERY.

Wheeling Paper Reports He Has Bought Tiltonville for $7,500.

James Baum is reported by the Wheeling News to have bought the Tiltonville Sanitary pottery for $7,500.

Mr. Baum, the News says, was in Tiltonville this week and told the people he was trying to raise a stock company for the purpose of operating the plant. He met with hearty encouragement, and if he can do as well in the next few days as he did yesterday there is not a chance of failure. William McDowell took $250 in stock, two physicians took small amounts and William Gallagher has agreed to take $500. Mr. Baum only wants stock enough taken to put on a new roof and make other repairs about the factory and he will furnish the money for operating expenses. The plant, when running, employs about 100 men.

The Return of the Rations.

In the civil war our soldiers faced privation and hunger. A little story in H. Clay Trumbull's book, "War Memories of a Chaplain," tells of the spirit in which they sometimes did it.

While before Petersburg doing siege work in the summer of 1864, our men had wormy hard tack served out to them. It was a severe trial to the men. Breaking open the biscuits and finding live worms in them, they would throw the pieces in the trenches, although the orders were to keep the trenches clean.

A brigade officer of the day, seeing some of these scraps along our front, called out sharply to our men:

"Throw that hard tack out of the trenches." Then, as the men promptly gathered it up, he added, "Don't you know that you've no business to throw hard tack in the trenches?"

Out from the injured soldier heart there came the reasonable explanation, "We've thrown it out two or three times sir, but it crawls back."

City Boy's Idea.

A Gallatin county farmer hired a boy from the city to assist him through the summer. The farmer told the kid to go out to the barn lot and salt the calf. The kid took a quart of salt and industriously rubbed it into the calf's hide. The colts got after the calf for the salt and had about all the hair licked off the animal before its condition was discovered. —Montgomery (Ills.) News.

OUR CONSULAR SYSTEM

How the American Method Has Been Imitated Abroad.

IS SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

England Has Adopted the Principal Points of Our Plan—Germany Is Now About to Take Steps Tending to a Reorganization of the System It Uses.

Notwithstanding the attacks in the United States on our consular system, it is in some respects a model for other nations to follow. Reference has been made in the British parliament to the good work of American consuls, and the British government has been urged to have its consuls make reports on the American plan. This has been done in the last few years to a large extent and summaries of the British consular reports are now published every week in London, though a daily summary of American consular reports is issued from our state department, says the Philadelphia Press.

It is admitted that there are serious defects in our system by which unfit men get into the service and good ones are removed. But, taken altogether, it is believed to be a more efficient service than that of any other nation. Frank H. Mason, the very efficient consul general at Berlin, reports to the state department at Washington that an entire reorganization of the German consular system is now under consideration by the German government.

He says: "The scope and purpose of the proposed reform have been dictated by the new and enlarged functions which are imposed upon the foreign service at Germany, by the expansion of her foreign trade and by the valiant fight which this country is preparing to make for a leading and permanent place in all important foreign markets. Germany's consular service is organized on old lines. Under that system consuls are educated as lawyers and diplomats, pass the prescribed assessors' examination, undergo a period of training in the foreign office and become typical Prussian officials, with a good command of languages, a fair knowledge of diplomacy, international law and the history of treaties, but no practical acquaintance with industrial processes, commercial value or mercantile usages. As trained officials belonging to the privileged class many of the imperial consuls and the subordinates, as is now asserted by the German press, have evinced a certain contempt for trade and those engaged in it and have rejected requests for commercial aid and information as forming no part of their official duties.

"The exigencies of the wholly new situation that has been developed during the past ten years—stimulated, as it broadly hinted, by the recognized efficiency of American and other consuls in obtaining valuable information and promoting export trade—have created a demand for a radical reform of the entire consular system and its reorganization upon wholly different lines. In so far as the leading newspapers are informed, the propositions now under consideration are two:

"First.—To retain practically the present consular organization and to strengthen the commercial efficiency of the consulates by assigning to them commercial attaches, a plan that has been found to work well in the German consulates in the United States.

"Second.—To abolish permanent consuls and appoint in their stead experienced and capable merchants, who will give to the consular office a definite commercial character, while its legal and purely official duties are performed by young attaches trained in the usual manner.

"Whichever of the plans may be adopted, there is a general demand that the consular service shall remain, as now, a life career; that the basis of its personnel shall be a corps of consular pupils selected by competitive examination for their intelligence, energy and efficiency as students of modern languages, commercial law and technology, trained by special studies for their career, and then sent out to foreign parts to begin their life work as apprentices. For the purposes of this service, the world will be divided into four or five districts, for each of which the consular pupil will be specially educated in all that relates to languages, history and special commercial conditions. In such a division, Great Britain and its English speaking colonies would constitute one district, the United States a second, South America a third, China and Japan a fourth, the East Indies a fifth, and the consular pupil, prepared and assigned to one of these, would remain there during his career, thus saving the reckless waste of valuable knowledge and experience that occurs where a competent consular officer, familiar with the language and commercial uses of one foreign country, is suddenly transferred to another.

"The consular service is to be made, like the great subsidized steamship lines, the effective agent of the government for pushing the trade of German merchants into every corner of the civilized world, and it will be reorganized.

ized, trained and equipped for its work with the same scientific thoroughness that characterizes the military, industrial and educational systems of the United States."

NAVY WATCHING CLOSELY.

Watson's Vessels Using Means to Break Up the Insurgent Inter- Island Traffic.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Mail reports received at the navy department showed that Admiral Watson was using every means to break up the insurgent traffic between the islands of the Philippine group. Commander Sperry of the Yorktown at Iloilo reported to Admiral Watson early in June that in his opinion the insurgents were throwing troops into Negros and Leyte from Luzon and the island of Panay.

Commander Sperry sent the gunboat Samar, under command of Ensign H. C. McFarland, to break up this traffic. In four days he destroyed 13 schooners along the coast of Panay. Each of these vessels had a full cargo. In each case the natives were set ashore with their personal effects.

A Strange Test of Manhood.

The ancient Clan Macleod used to exercise a strange test to prove the manhood of their chieftains. At Dunvegan castle, on the island of Skye, there is preserved the large horn known as "Rory More's Horn." This capacious vessel holds rather more than a bottle and a half of liquor. According to the old custom, every laird of Macleod was obliged on his coming of age to fill this horn with claret and without once laying it down to drain it to the dregs. This was taken as a proof of his manhood, and he was then deemed a worthy successor to the lairds of the past.

Deceitful.

"Men are queer animals," said the pessimist. "They are all more or less deceitful."

"Oh, I don't believe that!" replied the optimist. "I think there are plenty of people who strive to be honest. I know I do, and I don't give myself credit for being any better than the majority of men."

"Then why do you ask me how my health is every time we meet and stand around and look bored if I tell you?"—Chicago Times-Herald.

JONES WAS MISQUOTED.

Declares Strikers Were Not to Run the Cleveland End of His Campaign, As Was Reported.

TOLEDO, Aug. 11.—Mayor Jones, in an interview, stated that he was misquoted and that he did not say his campaign at Cleveland has been put in the hands of the striking street car men. He claims that no such arrangement has been made. He has announced that he will decide whether the people of Ohio desire him to run for governor on an independent ticket before the Democratic convention meets at Zanesville.

Receiver For Hotel and Theater.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 11.—Henry Gumble was appointed receiver of the Great Southern Hotel and Theater company. This step was caused by apprehension resulting from the appointment of a receiver for the company operating the hotel, and was taken for the protection of creditors. The Great Southern Hotel and Theater represent an investment of over $600,000. The liabilities of the company are estimated at about $330,000.

Erie to Have New Engines.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 11.—The Erie railroad gave an order for 20 big compound freight engines to the Brooks Locomotive works, and it is also building five passenger engines at its own shops at Meadville. These are in addition to the 15 passenger engines which are to be delivered by Sept. 1. This is inferred to be the beginning of the movement to lift the Erie out of the inferior class.

The Bishop Will Not Go to Law.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 11.—Bishop Janesson of the Belleville (Ills.) Roman Catholic diocese will accord the rebellious parishioners of St. Patrick's church in East St. Louis no further recognition until they come in repentance and seek absolution. The bishop will at once look about for a suitable site for a new church. The bishop will not go to the law to obtain possession of the old St. Patrick's church property.

Dewey Was Not Entirely Well.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—At the Mormon headquarters here the Mormon troubles in the southern part of the United States was partly ascribed to their "recent successes, but chiefly to their political opponents, who wish to see Utah reduced again to the position of a territory." FILIPINOS' GRIEVANCES.

Captain Martin Tells of Their Principal Complaints.

WAS HEARTILY TIRED OF THE WAR

He Escaped From Aguinaldo's Army and Makes a Statement Concerning the Purposes Which the Natives Expect to Achieve—Two Courses to End the War.

The New York Journal's correspondent, writing from Manila under date of June 15 about the Filipinos' grievances, says:

I was able to secure an interview with Captain Martin, who escaped from the insurgent army. Captain Martin was in General Baldermo Aguinaldo's division, and under his supervision all the intrenchments surrounding Paranaque las Pinas and numerous other towns in the province of Cavite were constructed.

He said he was heartily tired of the war, and for his part believed in the promises of the Americans, and for that reason, after having read the proclamation of the president, deserted his army and came to Manila for the purpose of trying to secure a conference with the officers of the insurgent army in the southern provinces of Luzon.

Captain Martin says the natives' principal grievances were:

First.—That the Americans promised them insufficient, indefinite guarantees; that our offers are of such a general nature that the majority of the people are led to believe that it is but a repetition of Spanish tricks to get them to give up their arms.

Second.—That we protect and leave in power the Spanish priests, saying that so long as we do this they will never give up Spanish prisoners. The natives hate the Spaniards, particularly the priests and officials, with a hate born of long suffering.

Third.—They object to our allowing Chinese labor in the islands. They say if we open the ports to Chinese or allow them to come here they will murder every Chinaman in the interior.

Captain Martin further confirms the many reports that every officer in the insurgent army who has shown a leaning toward peace or surrender is promptly put out of the way or reduced in rank.

For that reason, he says, Aguinaldo's brother superseded Trias, former commander of the forces in Cavite, Batanias and the Laguna de Bay provinces. I asked him where the insurgents go all their power and ammunition, and he replied that there were powder factories all over the island, two in Cavite alone, one at Imus, one at San Francisco del Monte, and that the insurgents had plenty of lead and shells; that in the three provinces named the insurgents had over 4,000 rifles and several cannon.

I asked him why, if the insurgents were brave and thought that they could stand up against the Americans, they did not show fight oftener, instead of running away after doing a little skirmish firing.

"That is not their plan," he said; "we were not taught to fight that way. Our belief has been that, while you could capture the small territory around Manila and the largest seaports, you never could whip or catch us in the interior, and that we could hold out against you indefinitely in the mountains, where we could live as well as in the valleys."

"But wouldn't it be better to enjoy the blessings of peace under our government than to turn yourselves into a tribe of savages, driven from place to place?" I asked.

"Yes, I think so," said the captain, "or I would not be here, but our generals do not, and they prefer to fight and take their chances rather than to be again governed by the priests and compete with the Chinese."

Our pacific and friendly treatment of the natives in Manila is having a marked influence upon them, and an influence that the Spaniards and English in Manila do not altogether approve. They think we are giving them too much rein, although there are many Englishmen who say they do not doubt that in the end it will produce a better effect than an opposite course. The Spanish, however, are not so sanguine.

Said an old Spanish resident to me: "You Americans mean well, but are giving these Filipinos so much liberty that they are drunk with it. In my factory I employ 300 natives. I can't do anything with them, although I pay them much more than I ever did before. They are beginning to get for eign ideas of organized labor. If I attempt to discharge one, I get a notification that they will all quit, no matter what my reason is for discharging the man. Then, too, they all want to get out and fight. You will never succeed if you let these people govern you or share in any important department of the government. It will take generations of education to make them realize their own ignorance."

Another resident said to me, in talking of the recent act of General Otis in appointing Filipino judges and justices in the civil and criminal courts: "You have made the gravest mistake possible. You may not realize it now, but wait until your American capitalists come over here and are formed to depend upon a native's idea of how to secure their land grants, their franchises and their rights in civil procedure. The whole thing is ridiculous."

I am not yet prepared to share that opinion. I have met most of the judges that General Otis has appointed and know many of their associates in Manila, and, while I am not prepared to pass upon their legal ability, I think they are men of more than ordinary ability and honesty.

Saturday our boys were treated to some new native tricks, one of which was the ruse of "playing possum." Some of the half dead insurgents lying in the trenches thrust bayonets into our men coming to their relief for the purpose of taking them back to the hospital. Early in the fight we learned that a white flag often simply meant that if we respected it and marched on a charge of lead awaited the rear guard. We have also taken wounded insurgents from the field, treated them in our general hospital and given them liberty, only to find them suddenly disappear across the lines to renew the fight against us.

We are attempting a large undertaking when we try to conquer them town by town. They run out like sheep when we advance and flock back upon our departure, for we cannot possibly garrison every town. Many places we have taken and subsequently abandoned are now reoccupied by the insurgents. Aguinaldo's surrender would unquestionably put an end to the conflict. His name is the charm that holds them all together. The defeat or surrender of any other general or province would not materially affect Aguinaldo's main forces.

It was hoped the influence of the liberal and successful government of Negros island would have a weight with the insurgents, but no such result is apparent. Only two courses remain open—one to continue our campaign and scatter and kill them until we reduce the native army to a band of outlaws; the other to make large concessions and definite overtures and promises far in excess of what have already been proffered. To count upon their becoming disorganized, divided by internal strife, starved out or tired of fighting is a groundless and baseless hope.

The future influence of the Spaniards and the part they will play in the government of these islands are questions for our gravest thinkers to contemplate. The Spaniard is making a desperate effort to regain his influence over the native. They speak the same language, they worship before the same altar, and they are associated in the same business.

Another problem is that of the church, for 300 years the partner of the state. The church has enormous spiritual as well as financial interests in these islands. The white dome of a cathedral is the landmark of every pueblo in the Philippine Islands. Church revenues have been twofold—the people, its tenants, and the state, its vassal. Although opposed to the tyrannical rule of Spanish friars, the church is still a tremendous power. Native curates have donned the robes hastily or forcibly shed by the Spanish incumbents and wielded a powerful influence over the people and the insurgent army, for the Tagalo is pre-eminently religious, superstitious and fanatical.

LIKES ROOF GARDEN IDEA.

Baptist Pastor Approves of Mr. Moody's Plan For Churches.

"I had architects examine this church recently with the view to making a roof garden," said the Rev. Charles E. Nash, pastor of the North Baptist church, on West Eleventh street, in New York, to a Chicago Tribune correspondent, "but I am sorry to say they found the walls so weak that the plan could not be adopted. A roof garden on my church has been a pet scheme of mine for years, and I am glad that Mr. Moody takes the stand he does in his interview the other morning."

The North Baptist church is a brick structure, built early in the century.

"It will not be long before we shall build a new church," said Rev. Nash, "and when we do we shall most assuredly have a roof garden. Would the people who crowd the roof gardens to see a theatrical performance enter a theater these hot days to see the same performance? No. The roof gardens are cool and comfortable. That is why they go there."

"Why should we not have cool, comfortable roof gardens for our religious services during these hot days instead of expecting the people to come to our hot, stuffy churches? The church roof garden certainly will be in existence before many years, and the sooner the better."
